Po Chu I Selected Poems:

The Selected Poems of Po Chü-i Juyi Bai, 1999 The quintessential Chinese poet translated by David Hinton recipient of the Harold Morton Landon Translation Award Po Chü-i Juyi Bai, 2000 The Tang dynasty was the great age of Chinese poetry and Po Chü-i 772-846 was one of that era's most prolific major poets His appealing style marked by deliberate simplicity won him wide popularity among the Chinese public at large and made him a favorite with readers in Korea and Japan as well From Po Chü-i's well preserved corpus personally compiled and arranged by the poet himself in an edition of seventy-five chapters the esteemed translator Burton Watson has chosen 128 poems and one short prose piece that exemplify the earthy grace and deceptive simplicity of this master poet For Po Chü-i writing poetry was a way to expose the ills of society and an autobiographical medium to record daily activities as well as a source of deep personal delight and satisfaction constituting along with wine and song one of the chief joys of existence Whether exposing the gluttony of arrogant palace attendants during a famine describing the delights of drunkenly chanting new poems under the autumn moon depicting the peaceful equanimity that comes with old age or marveling at cool Zen repose during a heat wave these masterfully translated poems shine with a precisely crafted artlessness that conveys the subtle delights of Chinese poetry Translations from

Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000 Berkshire Dictionary of Chinese Biography Kerry Brown, 2017-12-27 The Berkshire Dictionary of Chinese Biography the first publication of its kind since 1898 is the work of more than one hundred internationally recognized experts from nearly a dozen countries It has been designed to satisfy the growing thirst of students researchers professionals and general readers for knowledge about China It makes the entire span of Chinese history manageable by introducing the reader to emperors politicians poets writers artists scientists explorers and philosophers who have shaped and transformed China over the course of five thousand years In 135 entries ranging from 1 000 to 8 000 words and written by some of the world's leading China scholars the Berkshire Dictionary of Chinese Biography takes the reader from the important even if possibly mythological figures of ancient China to Communist leaders Mao Zedong and Deng Xiaoping The in-depth essays provide rich historical context and create a compelling narrative that weaves abstract concepts and disparate events into a coherent story Cross references between the articles show the connections between times places movements events and individuals Mountain Home David Hinton, 2014-10-10 The earliest and most extensive literary engagement with wilderness in human history Mountain Home is vital poetry that feels utterly contemporary China's tradition of rivers and mountains poetry stretches across millennia This is a plain spoken poetry of immediate day to day experience and yet seems most akin to China's grand landscape paintings Although its wisdom is ancient rooted in Taoist and Zen thought the work feels utterly contemporary especially as rendered here in Hinton's rich and accessible translations Mountain Home collects poems from 5th through 13th century China and includes the poets Li Po Po Chu i and Tu Fu The rivers and mountains tradition covers a remarkable range of topics comic domestic scenes social protest travel sage recluses and mountain landscapes shaped into forms of enlightenment And within this range the poems articulate the experience of living as an organic part of the natural world and its processes In an age of global ecological disruption and mass extinction this tradition grows more urgently important every day Mountain Home offers poems that will charm and inform not just readers of poetry but also the large community of readers who are interested in environmental awareness The Poetry of Meng Chiao in the Chinese Baroque Tradition Russell McLeod, 1973 The Selected Poems
