Pleasure Of The Text:

The Pleasure of the Text Roland Barthes, 1975 What is it that we do when we enjoy a text What is the pleasure of reading The French critic and theorist Roland Barthes's answers to these questions constitute perhaps for the first time in the history of criticism not only a poetics of reading but a much more difficult achievement an erotics of reading Like filings which gather to form a figure in a magnetic field the parts and pieces here do come together determined to affirm the pleasure we must take in our reading as against the indifference of mere knowledge Richard Howard

The Pleasure In/of the Text Fabien Arribert-Narce, Endo Fuhito, Kamila Pawlikowska, 2021 Why do we read What exactly thrills us in the text Drawing on the work of Roland Barthes this collection explores the notion of readerly enjoyment between form and content emotion and reason and escapism and knowledge seeking to understand how literary and ideological pleasures intersect

Die Lust am Text Roland Barthes, 1974

Producing Pleasure in the Contemporary University Stewart Riddle, Marcus K. Harmes, Patrick Alan Danaher, 2017-10-10 Academics working in contemporary universities are experiencing unprecedented and unsustainable pressure in an environment of hyper performativity metrics and accountability From this perspective the university produces multiple tensions and moments of crises where it seems that there is limited space left for the intrinsic enjoyment arising from scholarly practices This book offers a global perspective on how pleasure is central to the endeavours of academics working in the contemporary university with contributors evaluating the opportunities for the strategic refusal of the quantifying stultifying and stupefying delimiters of what is possible for academic production The aim of this book is to open up spaces for conversation reflection and thought in order to think to be and to do differently pleasurably Contributors rupture the bounds of what is permissible and possible within their daily lives habits and practices As such this book addresses increasingly significant questions What are some of the multiple and different ways that we can reclaim pleasure and enhance the durations and intensities of our passions desires and becomings within the contemporary university How might these aspirations be realised What are the spaces for the pleasurable production of research that might be opened up How might we reconfigure the neoliberal university to be a place of more affect where desire laughter and joy join with the work that we seek to undertake and the communities whom we serve

The Gentlest Law Armine Kotin Mortimer, 1989 Rich in informative and provocative suggestions for interpreting all of Barthes's texts this unique work proposes a comprehensive commentary on Barthes's brilliant programmatic book The Pleasure of the Text Fully explained intertexts illustrate the theory of intertextuality and clarify the book's most enigmatic and complex concepts Also included are corrections of the serious errors in the English translation The introduction assesses the importance of The Pleasure of the Text in Barthes's evolution and defines intertextuality and other key Barthesian notions such as critique a bibliography and index complete this valuable and most unusual study Students and professors alike will find it indispensable

Roland Barthes Graham Allen, 2004-06-02 Roland Barthes is a central figure in the study of language literature culture and the media

This book prepares readers for their first encounter with his crucial writings on some of the most important theoretical debates including existentialism and Marxism semiotics or the language of signs structuralism and narrative analysis post structuralism deconstruction and the death of the author theories of the text and intertextuality Tracing his engagement with other key thinkers such as Sartre Saussure Derrida and Kristeva this volume offers a clear picture of Barthes work in context The in depth understanding of Barthes offered by this guide is essential to anyone reading contemporary critical theory

The Poetics and Hermeneutics of Pain and Pleasure Bootheina Majoul, Hanene Baroumi, 2022-02-02 Pain and pleasure are at the heart of human experiences and literary journeys This book takes the title of Roland Barthes's text on the pleasure of writing as a starting point for the discussion of other different worlds and cartographies of pain and pleasure Set against the Aristotelian delineation of pleasure as the major principle that should govern a literary endeavor this volume investigates alternative reflections on the themes of pleasure and pain Thinking about the ways through which expressions of pain and pleasure may affect the writer and the reader as experiences of other pursuits of the human imagination can place or displace soothe or enrage and inspire or discourage the individual search for meaning By engaging with different theories and expressions it is possible to understand what pain and pleasure have done in the history of humanity rather than merely looking at them as representations of others distant experiences This volume entails new reflections on the expressions of pain and pleasure to create new meanings for these words in a world vying for expressions of power with and without bliss

The Pleasure of the Text Roland Barthes, 1975 What is it that we do when we enjoy a text What is the pleasure of reading The French critic and theorist Roland Barthes's answers to these questions constitute perhaps for the first time in the history of criticism not only a poetics of reading but a much more difficult achievement an erotics of reading Like filings which gather to form a figure in a magnetic field the parts and pieces here do come together determined to affirm the pleasure we must take in our reading as against the indifference of mere knowledge Richard Howard

The Pleasure of the Text Roland Barthes, 2011 Play in a Godless World Catherine Bates, 1999 This text challenges the long tradition which sees human play as the fount of creativity and origin of all civilization The book traces the history of an alternative theory of play in Shakespeare Nietzsche and Freud where play is an end in itself a cultivation of aesthetic forms which do nothing to disguise their artificiality and which are loved only for the fictions which they are Nietzsche the arch philosopher of play Freud the theorizer of slips and jokes and Shakespeare master of the man made illusions of the play world are shown to anticipate the playful philosophy which has become a hallmark of postmodern times Hart Crane and the Homosexual Text Thomas E. Yingling, 1990-04-04 Canonized for being insufficiently American although he took America as his subject chastised for obscurity by readers who would not allow or would not read homosexual meanings Crane embodies many understandings of America and of the predicament of the gay writer Voice Literary Supplement A brilliant critical model for understanding how textuality and sexuality can produce pervasive effects on each other in the writing of a figure like Crane

Michael Moon Duke University The Illicit Joyce of Postmodernism Kevin J. H. Dettmar, 1996 For nearly three quarters of a century the modernist way of reading has been the only way of reading James Joyce useful yes and powerful but like all frameworks limited This book takes a leap across those limits into postmodernism where the pleasures and possibilities of an unsuspected Joyce are yet to be found Kevin J H Dettmar begins by articulating a stylistics of postmodernism drawn from the key texts of Roland Barthes Mikhail Bakhtin and Jean Fran ois Lyotard Read within this framework Dubliners emerges from behind its modernist facade as the earliest product of Joyce s proto postmodernist sensibility Dettmar exposes these stories as tales of mystery not mastery despite the modernist earmarks of plentiful symbols allusions and epiphanies Ulysses too has been inadequately served by modernist critics Where they have emphasized the work s ingenious Homeric structure Dettmar focuses instead upon its seams those points at which the narrative willfully joyfully overflows its self imposed bounds Finally he reads A Portrait of the Artist and Finnegans Wake as less playful less daring texts the first constrained by the precious would be poet at its center the last marking a surprising retreat from the constantly evolving vertiginous experience of Ulysses In short The Illicit Joyce of Postmodernism explores what happens when the extra literary pronouncements of Eliot Pound and Joyce as well as Joyce s early critics are set aside and a new unauthorized Joyce is allowed to appear This postmodern Joyce more willful and less easily compartmentalized stands as a counterpoint to the modernist Joyce who has perhaps become too familiar For the Pleasure of the Text ... Jeremy Fernando, 2015-11-12 At the heart of this book lies attempts to read reading here being understood as the openness to the possibility of another a relation that occurs prior to any semantic or formal identification and therefore prior to any attempt at assimilating or appropriating what is being read to the one who reads Thus an event It opens with Lim Lee Ching s reading of this book a reading before your reading as it were And is followed by Jeremy Fernando s attempts to respond to the many Roland Barthes all whilst foregrounding the risk that even as one attempts to read as openness to the possibility of another all reading potentially re writes the other that his reading may well be an inscribing of his R B that whilst reading it you may well be making your very own R B In the midst of which you will find a piano score composed by Jachin Pousson which is both a nod to the fact that Barthes was a pianist and also a note to the musicality of the thought of Roland Barthes The hope is that these readings bring open the possibility of pleasure not just for the one who reads but perhaps even for if one allows oneself to imagine the text For the one we call name can do nothing but name Roland Barthes Text as Process Sally Bushell, 2009 The author concludes with a philosophical account of the status and meaning of the literary work as it comes into being Literature and Society in Imperial Russia, 1800-1914 , 1978-06 Ranging in topic from general discussions of literary theory to close readings of well known literary works these nine papers address nearly every literary movement in nineteenth and early twentieth century Russia and a number of major writers including Pushkin Gogol Turgenev and Dostoevsky Four kinds of issues are addressed theoretical problems in the relationship of literature and society the reading public the rhetoric and ideologies of writers and critics and the relationship between fictional and social worlds In confronting some of the ways in which the social and literary aspects of Russian culture have imposed themselves upon each other this volume seeks an approach to Russian literature that neglects neither the dynamics of social interaction nor the forms and traditions of literature The contributors are Robert L Belknap Jeffrey Brooks Edward J Brown Donald Fanger Jean Franco Robert Louis Jackson Hugh McLean Victor Ripp and William Mills Todd III Women's Worlds Rosalind Ballaster,1991 Roland Barthes Jonathan D.
