Plurality Conjunction And Events:

Plurality, Conjunction and Events P. Lasersohn, 2013-03-09 Plurality Conjunction and Events presents a novel theory of plural and conjoined phrases in an event based semantic framework It begins by reviewing options for treating the alternation between collective and distributive readings of sentences containing plural or conjoined noun phrases including analyses from both the modern and the premodern literature It is argued that plural and conjoined noun phrases are unambiguously group denoting and that the collective distributive distinction therefore must be located in the predicates with which these noun phrases combine More specifically predicates must have a hidden argument place for events the collective distributive distinction may then be represented in the part whole structure of these events This allows a natural treatment of collectivizing adverbial expressions and of pluractional affixes it also allows a unified semantics for conjunction in which conjoined sentences and predicates denote groups of events much like conjoined noun phrases denote groups of individuals

Event Arguments: Foundations and Applications Claudia Maienborn, Angelika Wöllstein, 2011-12-22 Since entering the stage Davidsonian event arguments have taken on a central role in linguistic theorizing Recent years have seen a continuous extension of possible applications for them not only in semantics but also in syntax At the same time questions concerning the ontological status of events have received renewed attention This collection of articles provides new evidence for the virtually ubiquitous presence of event arguments in linguistic structure and sheds new light on their nature The volume is organized into four sections Events states causation Event nominals Events in composition Measuring events
