Mathematical Programming The State of the Art A. Bachem, M. Grötschel, B. Korte, 2012-12-06 In the late forties Mathematical Programming became a scientific discipline in its own right Since then it has experienced a tremendous growth Beginning with economic and military applications it is now among the most important fields of applied mathematics with extensive use in engineering natural sciences economics and biological sciences The lively activity in this area is demonstrated by the fact that as early as 1949 the first Symposium on Mathematical Programming took place in Chicago Since then mathematical programmers from all over the world have gathered at the international symposia of the Mathematical Programming Society roughly every three years to present their recent research to exchange ideas with their colleagues and to learn about the latest developments in their own and related fields In 1982 the XI International Symposium on Mathematical Programming was held at the University of Bonn W Germany from

August 23 to 27 It was organized by the Institut für Ökonometrie und Operations Research of the University of Bonn in collaboration with the Sonderforschungsbereich 21 of the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft This volume constitutes part of the outgrowth of this symposium and documents its scientific activities Part I of the book contains information about the symposium welcoming addresses lists of committees and sponsors and a brief review about the Fulker Prize and the Dantzig Prize which were awarded during the opening ceremony
