Seth Eastman Pictorial Historian Of The:

Seth Eastman, Pictorial Historian of the Indian John F. MacDermott, Seth Eastman, 1988 Pioneer Photographers from the Mississippi to the Continental Divide Peter E. Palmquist, Thomas R. Kailbourn, 2005 This biographical dictionary of some 3 000 photographers and workers in related trades active in a vast area of North America before 1866 is based on extensive research and enhanced by some 240 illustrations most of which are published here for the first time The territory covered extends from central Canada through Mexico and includes the United States from the Mississippi River west to but not including the Rocky Mountain states Together this volume and its predecessor Pioneer Photographers of the Far West A Biographical Dictionary 1840 1865 comprise an exhaustive survey of early photographers in North America and Central America excluding the eastern United States and eastern Canada This work is distinguished by the large number of entries by the appealing narratives that cover both professional and private lives of the subjects and by the painstaking documentation It will be an essential reference work for historians libraries and museums as well as for collectors of and dealers in early American photography In addition to photographers the book includes photographic printers retouchers and colorists and manufacturers and sellers of photographic apparatus and stock Because creators of moving panoramas and optical amusements such as dioramas and magic lantern performances often fashioned their works after photographs the people behind those exhibitions are also discussed Seth Eastman Sarah E. Boehme, Christian F. Feest, Patricia Condon Johnston, 1995 The Leading Pictorial Historian of the American Indian in the nineteenth century Seth Eastman was a career army officer whose paintings are unparalleled on two fronts Monumentally important as American art they also comprise a unique visual record of Native life which was then undergoing rapid change American Paintings and Historical Prints from the Middendorf Collection ,1967 Seth Eastman's Mississippi John Francis McDermott, 1973 The Mississippi River landscape so appealed to Captain Seth Eastman stationed at Fort Snelling that between 1846 and 1848 he painted dozens of excellent miniature landscapes of the river from the Falls of St Anthony in Minnesota to a point below St Louis near the mouth of the Ohio Seventy nine of the detailed scenes are reproduced here enabling us to see the river as Eastman saw it in its wilderness state over 125 years ago when white men s towns were just beginning to appear on the shores Only recently discovered in a private collection the delicate watercolors establish Eastman as an important landscape painter and the best watercolorist of the Upper Mississippi Trained as a topographical artist at the U S Military Academy Eastman approached painting realistically Well known for his exact portrayals of Chippewas Winnebagoes and Sioux at their daily activities Eastman displays in his landscapes the same precise realization of the river scene The newly found paintings form the most extensive and carefully observed visual documentation of the Upper Mississippi ever undertaken Of their quality McDermott writes So small that they might have been painted with the aid of a jeweler s glass so sharply distinct that the artist might have been viewing scenes through a telescope so sensitive in the use of atmosphere so delicate in their tints these pictures are a glowing triumph for Eastman McDermott who also wrote The Lost Panoramas of the Mississippi and Seth Eastman Pictorial Historian of the Indian traces the history of these watercolors in an absorbing essay and compiles an annotated catalog of them Publisher's description

Catlin and His Contemporaries Brian W. Dippie, 1990-01-01 George Catlin's paintings and the vision behind them have become part of our understanding of a lost America We see the Indian past through Catlin's eyes imagine a younger fresher land in his bright hues But he spent only a few years in what he considered Indian country The rest of his long life more than thirty years was devoted largely to promoting repainting and selling his collection in short to seeking patronage Catlin and His Contemporaries examines how the preeminent painter of western Indians before the Civil War went about the business of making a living from his work Catlin shared with such artists as Seth Eastman and John Mix Stanley a desire to preserve a visual record of a race seen as doomed and competed with them for federal assistance In a young republic with little institutional and governmental support available painters writers and scholars became rivals and sometimes bitter adversaries Brian W Dippie untangles the complex web of interrelationships between artists government officials members of Congress businessmen antiquarians and literati kings and queens and the Indians themselves In this history of the politics of patronage during the nineteenth century luminaries like Henry Rowe Schoolcraft Henry H Sibley John James Audubon Alfred Jacob Miller and Karl Bodmer are linked with Catlin in a contest for the support of the arts setting a precedent for later generations That the contenders produced so much of enduring importance under such trying circumstances Dippie observes was the sought for miracle that had seemed to elude them in their lives
