Settlers And The Agrarian Question Capitalism In Colonial Australia:

Settlers and the Agrarian Question Philip McMichael, 1984 An original interpretation of the development of Australian colonial society and economy

Applied Multilevel Analysis Jos W. R. Twisk, 2010-03-26 This is a practical introduction to multilevel analysis suitable for all those doing research Most books on multilevel analysis are written by statisticians those books are difficult for non mathematical researchers In contrast this volume provides an accessible account on the practical application of multilevel analysis in research Many worked examples with computer output are given to illustrate and explain this subject Datasets of the examples are available on the internet so the reader can reanalyze the data This approach will help bridge the conceptual and communication gap that exists between researchers and statisticians

Opposing Australia's First Assisted Immigrants, 1832-42 Melanie Burkett, 2021-10-26 This book unravels the paradoxical denigration of the first significant group of free non convict working class emigrants to the Australian colony of New South Wales in the 1830s Though their labour was sorely needed the colonial elite rejected the new arrivals on the grounds that they were lazy and immoral These criticisms stemmed from political economic and cultural motivations that ultimately sought to protect legitimise and cement the elite's financial and social hegemony The author seeks to explore the ulterior motives behind the public denouncements of immigrants by exposing the conflicting and opportunistic rationales used Brought to Australia from Britain and Ireland through the experiment of government assisted migration these immigrants are often remembered as brave pioneers today but this book exposes the deep antagonistic attitudes toward immigration that remain entrenched in Australian society Uncovering early forms of class antagonism in Australia this book presents useful insights for those researching Australian history and migration studies as well as scholars of colonial history by providing a model for re evaluating and confronting a long standing pattern in most settler societies hostility toward immigrants

Intimacies of Violence in the Settler Colony Penelope Edmonds, Amanda Nettelbeck, 2018-05-25 Violence and intimacy were critically intertwined at all stages of the settler colonial encounter and yet we know surprisingly little of how they were connected in the shaping of colonial economies Extending a reading of economies as labour relations into new arenas this innovative collection of essays examines new understandings of the nexus between violence and intimacy in settler colonial economies of the British Pacific Rim The sites it explores include cross cultural exchange in sealing and maritime communities labour relations on the frontier inside the pastoral station and in the colonial home and the material and emotional economies of exploration Following the curious mobility of texts objects and frameworks of knowledge this volume teases out the diversity of ways in which violence and intimacy were expressed in the economies of everyday encounters on the ground In doing so it broadens the horizon of debate about the nature of colonial economies and the intercultural encounters that were enmeshed within them

Settler Society in the Australian Colonies Angela Woollacott, 2015 Examines the rising numbers of free settlers from the 1820s to the 1860s their dependence on Aboriginal immigrant and convict under paid laborers and the slow development of representative government Reinventing Capitalism in New Zealand Chris Wilkes, 2019-05-02 In the nineteenth century Britain bestrode the world Its domination depended in part on it exporting its social and economic problems to the farthest reaches of the globe In Aotearoa New Zealand Britain's elite thought they had found a ready made country in which to re-establish their way of life This invasion might ease their problems at home and extend their influence to the edge of the earth White settlers began to arrive in New Zealand in numbers during the 1840s and sought to reinvent capitalism in a new land This book traces the shape of this reinvention and the slow emergence of New Zealand's particular form of class structure The book will be of interest to anyone concerned with the history of capitalism and its colonial ambitions It sheds light on the enduring nature of inequality in New Zealand and where it might originate Students of political science sociology history and cultural studies will find its arguments of interest Genocide on Settler Frontiers Mohamed Adhikari, 2015-06-01 European colonial conquest included many instances of indigenous peoples being exterminated Cases where invading commercial stock farmers clashed with hunter gatherers were particularly destructive often resulting in a degree of dispossession and slaughter that destroyed the ability of these societies to reproduce themselves The experience of aboriginal peoples in the settler colonies of southern Africa Australia North America and Latin America bears this out The frequency with which encounters of this kind resulted in the annihilation of forager societies raises the question of whether these conflicts were inherently genocidal an issue not yet addressed by scholars in a systematic way Australian Economic History Claire E. F. Wright, 2022-06-02 In a time of pandemics war and climate change fostering knowledge that transcends disciplinary boundaries is more important than ever Economic history is one of the world's oldest interdisciplinary fields with its prosperity dependent on connection and relevance to disciplinary behemoths economics and history Australian Economic History is the first history of an interdisciplinary field in Australia and the first to set the field's progress within the structures of Australian universities It highlights the lived experience of doing interdisciplinary research and how scholars have navigated the opportunities and challenges of this form of knowledge These lessons are vital for those seeking to develop robust interdisciplinary conversations now and in the future This previously untold story of economic history in Australia exposes the centrality of economic thought and scholarship to Australian intellectual and political life Deftly positioning economic history in an innovative institutional place based and person focused narrative Claire Wright entangles economics with the history of education to produce a tale of university interdisciplinarity influence and impact Written with vitality and bursting with both data and anecdote this book makes an exceptional contribution to the intersecting fields of history economics and higher education studies Hannah Forsyth author of A History of the Modern Australian University Few readers would expect to find a classical tragedy in the story of an academic field Yet that is what Claire Wright shows us in this study of Economic History as it has been practiced in Australia She traces the field from legendary beginnings to triumphant growth to organisational collapse and renaissance on other terms Carefully researched and vigorously written this book raises questions about disciplines and interdisciplinary fields universities and markets and social bases of intellectual work that are relevant to all fields today Raewyn Connell author of The Good University Australia proved a pioneer in the study of economic history nurturing a discipline with innovative data and understanding of material trends Yet by the 1990s economic history departments closed as senior scholars retired and the field was subsumed by conventional economics In this absorbing study Dr Claire Wright challenges the conventional account She is tough minded about financial and institutional pressures on the field but cautiously optimistic about the future It is a mistake she argues to see institutional representation as the benchmark of influence Instead the interdisciplinary nature of economic history has encouraged new research and teaching across the humanities and social sciences With close attention to individual scholars and their university departments and a deep sense of the trajectory of the field Australian Economic History Transformations of an Interdisciplinary Field is an original and important contribution to Australian intellectual history Glyn Davis Distinguished Professor of Political Science in the Crawford School of Public Policy The Australian National University The Agrarian Question in Tanzania? Sam Maghimbi, Razack Bakari Lokina, Mathew A. Senga, 2011 There are about four million peasant families in Tanzania They farm on the smallest scale the average farm being two acres in size The principal agricultural equipment is the hand hoe Since the onset of the colonial era those in authority have pursued policies to dominate the peasantry It is argued that the small scale of operations has contributed to the widespread poverty among farmers There is still good agricultural land that is not farmed but the current land tenure of peasants reproduces itself on new farmland The conclusion is that in order to accelerate agricultural development land tenure must be institutionalized From Columbus to ConAgra Alessandro Bonanno, 1994 This examination of the role of agriculture and food in the new international division of labor argues that the globalized economy creates new winners and losers Journal of Australian Colonial History, 2004 A Sociology of Australian Society Jake M. Najman, Jakob M. Najman, John Stuart Western, 1993 Revised edition of an introductory sociology text which includes two new chapters on rural Australia and higher education and an expanded introduction Considers the major structural division of society and describes subsequent behaviour patterns Deals with current issues and concerns such as social disadvantage Includes references and an index The editors teach sociology at the University of Queensland The 24 contributors have qualifications in fields such as sociology politics and anthropology Published simultaneously in hardback Australasian Journal of American Studies, 1995 Nevada Historical Society Quarterly Nevada Historical Society, 2003 Mr. Brooks and the Australian Trade Frank Broeze, 1993 There is much to learn from Frank Broeze's major contribution to Australian and British economic financial and maritime history States Versus Markets in the World-System Peter B. Evans, Dietrich Rueschemeyer, Evelyne Huber Stephens, 1985-10 The contributors examine the proposition that states and markets are bound together by inextricable symbiotic ties while at the same time always standing in tension with each other The conclusion drawn from the nine diverse but very specific viewpoints contained in this work is that even though markets are constructed by geopolitics and state policy geopolitics and markets define the economic and political space in which states operate

Sociological Abstracts ,2004 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers The Société Zoologique D'acclimatation and the New French Empire Michael A.

Osborne,1987 Australasia and South Pacific Islands Bibliography John Thawley,1997-02-20 This selective bibliography of nearly 6 000 items concentrates on monographs published during the last fifty years updating other major bibliographies on the Australasian and South Pacific region Rethinking Social Development David Booth,1994 Provides a report on the reorientation of social development thinking and the issues it poses It explores a range of possible solutions to difficult issues while also surveying and exemplifying some of the best work in the social development field in a form accessible to more advanced students
