Right Price Fair Credit:

Right Price, Fair Credit Ellen Marie Pint, 2002 Under the Army's financial management system for spare parts logistics customers receive budgets to buy spare parts from the supply system and receive credits for returning parts to the supply system either for repair or because they are no longer needed in local inventories. The Army's wholesale inventories of spare parts are financed by a stock fund which uses its income from the sale of parts net of credits issued to customers to pay for repairs and procurement of replacement parts. Some installation level or retail inventories are also financed by stock funds. During fiscal year 2001 the Army's stock funds were in a period of transition from separate wholesale and retail components to a Single Stock Fund SSF. As part of this change the Army implemented new price and credit policies for spare parts. In this document the authors introduce a set of criteria to assess price and credit policy changes in terms of their effectiveness in meeting the overall objective of maintaining the logistics customer's ability to meet mission requirements while keeping weapon systems in operating condition at the lowest total cost to the Army. The authors then use these criteria to compare and evaluate pre SSF SSF and proposed future price and credit policies and define the characteristics of an optimal Army price and credit policy.

From Foreclosure to Fair Lending Chester Hartman, Gregory D. Squires, 2013-10-22 Well known fair housing and fair lending activists and organizers examine the implications of the new wave of fair housing activism generated by Occupy Wall Street protests and the many successes achieved in fair housing and fair lending over the years. The book reveals the limitations of advocacy efforts and the challenges that remain. Best directions for future action are brought to light by staff of fair housing organizations, fair housing attorneys, community and labor organizers, and scholars who have researched social justice organizing and advocacy movements. The book is written for general interest and academic audiences. Contributors address the foreclosure crisis, access to credit in a changing marketplace, and the immoral hazards of big banks. They examine opportunities in collective bargaining available to homeowners and how low income and minority households were denied access to historically low home prices and interest rates. Authors question the effectiveness of litigation to uphold the Fair

Housing Act's promise of nondiscriminatory home loans and ask how the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau is assuring fair lending. They also look at where immigrants stand housing as a human right and methods for building a movement. Chester Hartman is an urban planner, academic author of more than twenty books and director of research for the Poverty Race Research Action Council. Gregory Squires is a professor of sociology, public policy and public administration at George Washington University and advisor to the John Marshall Law School Fair Housing Legal Support Center. Army Supply Chains Greg Parlier, 2011-03-15 This text offers a practical approach for understanding the US Army's extremely complex global logistics system widely acknowledged as one of the largest in the world. The focus is on inventory management policy where prescriptions are illuminated through the prism of an enterprise supply chain analysis. Although Army aviation logistics examples are emphasized throughout, the fundamental issues and potential solutions are broadly applicable to other large scale military and industrial supply chains as well. Following a summary of recent trends for background and context, a multi-stage conceptual model of the logistics structure is presented to segment and guide the effort. This multi-stage model is used to systematically analyze major organizational components of the supply chain, diagnose structural disorders and prescribe solutions. Integration challenges are addressed using cost-benefit perspectives which incorporate supply chain objectives of efficiency, resilience and effectiveness. The design and evaluation section proposes an analytical architecture consisting of four complementary modeling approaches collectively referred to as dynamic strategic logistics planning to enable a coordinated enterprise approach for Army Logistics Transformation. An organizational construct is presented for an engine for innovation to accelerate and sustain continual improvement for Army logistics and supply chain management. A Center for Innovation in Logistics Systems. Finally, strategic management challenges associated with enterprise integration and transformational change are addressed: organizational design, management information and decision support systems, strategic alignment for a learning organization and workforce considerations including human capital investment needs. The text concludes with a relevant historical vignette and closes with a summary of expected benefits.

Geyer's Stationer ,1923 Improving Recapitalization Planning Ellen Marie Pint,2008 The U S Army is undergoing a major transformation to ensure that its future capabilities meet the needs of the nation One element of its transformation strategy is the recapitalization RECAP program which entails rebuilding and selectively upgrading 17 systems The program has continuously evolved with ongoing decisionmaking about what types of system modifications will occur and the scale of programs Greater insight into aging effects can facilitate such decisions This report describes regression analyses carried out to assess how vehicle age relates to annual repair costs and availability or conversely downtime for High Mobility Multipurpose Wheeled Vehicles HMMWVs The study found that estimated repair costs and downtime increase with vehicle age with the strength of both effects tapering off slightly for older vehicles The study also found that vehicle usage location and variant type have significant effects These estimated cost versus age and downtime versus age relationships were embedded in a vehicle replacement model that given assumptions about the cost and effectiveness of RECAP can be used to estimate the timing recommended for RECAP and replacement of HMMWVs The model results indicate that the Army might be able to achieve modest life cycle cost savings by replacing some HMMWV variants at an age lower than the current average fleet age but the savings from RECAP will depend on the program s costs and its effectiveness in reducing future vehicle maintenance costs and downtime
