Social Work with Elderly People Cherry Rowlings,2024-05-10 The care of elderly people particularly those who are frail is a major task facing society Originally published in 1981 this book considers the challenge of caring from a social work perspective It locates social work with elderly people firmly within the mainstream of social work ethics knowledge and skills and demonstrates how work with the elderly both informs and in turn is informed by an understanding of work with other client groups From an initial discussion of why social workers are often reluctant or unable to work with the problems that may be present in old age Social Work with Elderly People continues with a description of the disadvantages that often accompany old age and the problems that elderly people may experience Certain aspects of social work practice are then considered in more detail such as the pace of work the goals of intervention communication and assessment Later chapters focus on practice with elderly people in three different settings on their own in the community with their families and in residential care Issues such as the dynamics of caring and being cared for the assessment and management of dependency and risk and the preservation of

Matthew,2013-11-11 Services to older people with mental health problems have gone through radical change in recent years Legislation has had a profound effect by dictating how care to older people is delivered both within hospital and within the community The recent government agenda emphasizes cost effectiveness value for money and accountability This too is an important driving force in re evaluating the service although not everyone would agree with many of the proposed strategies and there are clearly different views as to the appropriateness of many of the services One thing is certain however the move towards interdisciplinary working is here to stay Not all change has been led by legislation and many innovations have been founded in the day to day practices in the care of older people with mental health problems A service of course does not become integrated merely by imposing joint working on a number of professionally based disciplines and in many ways this may not be desirable At its worst it produces duplication where people from different background are all doing the same job This is not the intention of joint working instead it should attempt to improve the quality of service by a rich mix of skills and experience from a number of related disciplines      Old Age ,1982      Rights & Risk Alison Joanna Norman,National
