Mobilising the Masses Matthew Cunningham, 2022-04-05 The radical right has gained considerable ground in the twenty first century From Brexit to Bolsonaro and Tea Partiers to Trump many of these diverse manifestations of right wing populism share a desire to co opt or supplant the mainstream parties that have traditionally held sway over the centre right It is now more important than ever to understand similar moments in Australian and New Zealand history This book concerns one such moment the Great Depression and the explosion of large populist conservative groups that accompanied the crisis These citizens movements as they described themselves sprang into being virtually overnight and amassed a combined membership in the hundreds of thousands They staunchly opposed party politicians and political parties for their supposed inaction and infighting Whether left or right it did not matter They wanted to use their vast numbers to pressure their governments into enacting proposals they believed were in the national interest a smaller more streamlined government where Members of Parliament were free to act according to their conscience rather than their party allegiance At the same time the movements prescribed antidotes for their nations economic ill health that were often radical and occasionally anti democratic At the height of their power they threatened to disrupt or outright replace the centre right political parties of the time particularly in Australia At a time when fascism and right wing authoritarianism were on the march internationally the future shape of conservative politics was at stake

Peoples and Places Matthew Hirt, 2022-05-27 Jesus s final command to his disciples was to make disciples of all nations But who are the nations How do we know we are being obedient to the task Do our current lists of ethnolinguistic people groups sufficiently answer the question For the last fifty years missiologists and missionaries have discussed this topic but much of the conversation has been focused on definitions that give little attention to biblical theology When we explore how the Bible describes the nations we find some other categories that have been overlooked forgotten or set aside in the development of missions strategy Geography is one of these categories However this is not simply bringing current geo political entities back into our missions strategy Instead Matthew Hirt is calling on missiologists missions researchers and missionaries on the field to discover how people groups identify their own geographies and in turn how that geography contributes to a people group s identity
