Reconstructing Obesity Megan B. McCullough, Jessica A. Hardin, 2013-10-01 In the crowded and busy arena of obesity and fat studies there is a lack of attention to the lived experiences of people how and why they eat what they do and how people in cross cultural settings understand risk health and bodies This volume addresses the lacuna by drawing on ethnographic methods and analytical emic explorations in order to consider the impact of cultural difference embodiment and local knowledge on understanding obesity It is through this reconstruction of how obesity and fatness are studied and understood that a new discussion will be introduced and a new set of analytical explorations about obesity research and the effectiveness of obesity interventions will be established Bodies of Knowledge Eugenia Georges, 2008 Recipient of the 2006 Norman L and Roselea J Goldberg Prize for the best project in the area of medicine The author a second generation Greek American returned to Greece with her young daughter to do fieldwork over the course of a decade Focusing on Rhodes an island that blends continuity with the past and rapid social change in often unexpected ways she interviewed over a hundred women doctors and midwives about issues of reproduction The result is a detailed portrait of how a longstanding system of local gynecological and obstetrical knowledge under the control of women was rapidly displaced in the the period following World War II and how the technologically intensive biomedical model that took its place in turn assumed its own distinctive signature Bodies of Knowledge is a vivid ethnographic study of how a presumably globalizing and homogenizing process like medicalization can be reshaped as women and medical experts alike selectively accept or reject new practices and technologies Georges found for example that women in Rhodes have enthusiastically embraced some new technologies like fetal imaging during pregnancy but rejected others like medical contraception They are also avid consumers of popular childbirth manuals This book is the recipient of the 2006 Norman L and Roselea J Goldberg Prize for the best project in the area of medicine Texas Health Atlas Lawrence E.
