Risks At Sea Amsterdam Insurance And Maritime Europe 1766 178:

Risks at Sea Frank C. Spooner, 2002-07-04 This book places the marine insurance business of Amsterdam in the wider context of the political economy of Europe during the second half of the eighteenth century The analysis is based on the simultaneous quotations of premiums for the twenty two groups of destinations which formed a major part of the commercial matrix of the Netherlands It considers the operation of the market at two levels On the one hand the provision of insurance responded to risk uncertainties in the market in the 1760s and 1770s Amsterdam experienced three serious upheavals in the form of the financial crises of 1763 and 1772-73 and the hostilities leading to American independence and the Fourth Anglo-Dutch War On the other hand underwriters accepted risks in situations of structural uncertainty The book is fully illustrated with graphs and maps and uses a wide range of original documents drawn from archives and libraries in Europe An appendix provides the basic data of premiums quoted in the price lists of the market

Marine Insurance in the Netherlands 1600-1870 Sabine Go, 2009 Marine insurance has been of great importance to the expansion of long distance trade and economic growth in the early modern period in particular for seafaring nations such as the Dutch Republic The Amsterdam market became Europe's leading insurance market and within the Republic other insurance systems also emerged Little is known about the differing institutional frameworks governing these industries and the interaction between the institutions and the actors in the industry This study examines the development of marine insurance in the Netherlands in Amsterdam Rotterdam and the province of Groningen from c 1600 to 1870 from an institutional point of view It examines how the behavior of authorities insurers underwriters and brokers was affected by the formal and informal constraints of the industry and how in turn their conduct has influenced the institutional framework and induced institutional change Three insurance systems in the Netherlands each with its own distinctive characteristics and the interaction between institutions and actors is examined By examining developments over a period of two and half centuries the path of long term institutional change becomes discernable

Marine Insurance Adrian Leonard, 2016-02-03 Since its invention in Italy in the fourteenth century marine insurance has provided merchants with capital protection in times of crisis thus oiling the gears of trade and commerce With a focus on customs laws and organisational structures this book reveals the Italian origins of marine insurance and tracks the spread of underwriting practices and institutions in Europe and America through the early modern era With contributions from eleven leading researchers from seven countries the book examines key institutional developments in the history of marine insurance The authors discuss its invention in Italy and its evolution from private to corporate structures assessing the causes and impacts of various state interventions Amsterdam and Antwerp are analysed as one time key centres of underwriting as is the emergence and maturity of marine insurance in London The book evaluates an experiment in corporate underwriting in Cadiz and the development of insurance institutions in the United States before applying the metrics of underwriting to discuss commerce raiding in the Atlantic up to the nineteenth century

The Global

Securities Market R. C. Michie, 2006-11-09 This volume provides an authoritative account of the global securities market from its earliest developments to 2006

The 'Mother of all Trades' Milja van Tielhof, 2021-12-28 In the early modern period the Dutch called the grain trade on the Baltic the mother of all trades as they considered it to be the basis of most of their trade and shipping and indeed the cornerstone of the Dutch economy For a very long time the mass grain exports from the Baltic were dominated by the Dutch and Amsterdam was the central entrep t from which the grain was distributed over the Dutch hinterland and the rest of Europe This book aims to present a general history of the mother of all trades and particularly shows the fundamental importance for transaction costs including the costs for transport insurance and protection the quality of the local services sector in Amsterdam the influence of monetary and mercantile policies and the efficiency of trade organization
