Ritual Art History A Theoretical Art Historical Study:

Images and Objects in Ritual Practices in Medieval and Early Modern Northern and Central Europe Krista Kodres, Anu Mänd, 2014-07-18 This multidisciplinary collection of essays explores the functions meanings and use of images and objects in various late Medieval and Early Modern social practices which were linked by their ritual character The book approaches ritual as an action which is discussed under the general umbrella term performative practice and is characterised by a synthesis between the repetitive and the extraordinary that carries an intense symbolic meaning and is emotionally charged Images spaces and rituals were closely interconnected in both the religious and the secular spheres and played a relevant role in the symbolic communication of the time The essays in this volume are devoted to a complex study of these phenomena in Northern and Central Europe including regions which due to linguistic or cultural barriers have thus far received comparatively little attention in Anglo American scholarship including Scandinavia Poland and the Baltic states

Personal Experience and Materiality in Greek Religion K.A. Rask, 2023-04-14 Employing frameworks of lived religion and materiality this book provides the first full length study of personal religious experience in the Greek Archaic and Classical periods Rask analyzes archeological epigraphic and textual evidence to highlight the role of individuals as vital actors and makers of Greek religion A range of perspectives such as those of Archaic mariners and Late Classical weaving women show that religion infused the daily lives of ancient Greeks Chapters visit the many spaces where people engaged in religious activities from household kitchens to international emporia as well as shrines both large and small The book also interrogates devotional activities such as making votives and engaging in lifelong relationships with divinities arguing for the emotionally rich character of Greek lived religion Not only do these considerations demonstrate underexplored ways for reconstructing aspects of Greek religion but also allow us to rethink familiar subjects such as votive portraits and epiphany from new angles Personal Experience and Materiality in Greek Religion is of interest to students and scholars working on ancient Greek religion and archeology as well as anyone interested in daily life and lived experience in the ancient world Renaissance Theory James Elkins, Robert

Williams, 2008-04 Renaissance Theory presents an animated conversation among art historians about the optimal ways of conceptualizing Renaissance art and the links between Renaissance art and contemporary art and theory This is the first discussion of its kind involving not only questions within Renaissance scholarship but issues of concern to art historians and critics in all fields Organized as a virtual roundtable discussion the contributors discuss rifts and disagreements about how to understand the Renaissance and debate the principal texts and authors of the last thirty years who have sought to reconceptualize the period They then turn to the issue of the relation between modern art and the Renaissance Why do modern art historians and critics so seldom refer to the Renaissance Is the Renaissance our indispensable heritage or are we cut off from it by the revolution of modernism The volume includes an introduction by Rebecca Zorach and two final synoptic essays as well as contributions from some of the most prominent thinkers on Renaissance art including Stephen Campbell Michael Cole Frederika Jakobs Claire Farago and Matt Kavalier The University of Virginia Record University of Virginia, 2007 Rituals of War Zainab Bahrani, 2025-12-16 Rituals of War is an investigation into the earliest historical records of violence and biopolitics In Mesopotamia ancient Iraq ca 3000 500 BC rituals of war and images of violence constituted part of the magical technologies of warfare that formed the underlying irrational processes of war In the book three lines of inquiry are converged into one historical domain of violence namely war the body and representation Building on Foucault's argument in Discipline and Punish that the art of punishing must rest on a whole technology of representation Zainab Bahrani investigates the ancient Mesopotamian record to reveal how that culture relied on the portrayal of violence and control as part of the mechanics of warfare Moreover she takes up the more recent arguments of Giorgio Agamben on sovereign power and biopolitical to focus on the relationship of power the body and violence in Assyrian Babylonian texts and monuments of war Bahrani brings together and analyzes facets of war and sovereign power that fall under the categories of representation and display the aesthetic the ritualistic and the supernatural Besides the invention of the public monument of war and the rituals of iconoclasm destruction and relocation of monuments in war she investigates formulations of power through the body narrative displays in battle the reading of omens before the battle and historical divination through the body and body parts The author describes these as the magical technologies of war the realm of the irrational that enables the ideologies of just war in the distant past as today Studies in Art Education ,1990 The Space Between ,2006
