The Blood Drawing Ghost and many more Ghost Riders of Goldspur Barbara Siegel,1985 A strange force has pulled you back in time to the Wild West where you choose from over 20 endings when you face the Ghost riders of Goldspur Early Chinese Religion, Part Two: The Period of Division (220-589 AD) (2 vols.) John Lagerwey,Pengzhi Lü,2009-11-23 After the Warring States treated in Part One of this set there is no more fecund era in Chinese religious and cultural history than the period of division 220 589 AD During it Buddhism conquered China Daoism grew into a mature religion with independent institutions and together with Confucianism these three teachings having each won its share of state recognition and support formed a united front against shamanism While all four religions are covered Buddhism and Daoism receive special attention in a series of parallel chapters on their pantheons rituals sacred geography community organization canon formation impact on literature and recent archaeological discoveries This multi disciplinary approach without ignoring philosophical and theological issues brings into sharp focus the social and historical matrices of Chinese religion Early Chinese Religion John Lagerwey,Pengzhi Lü,2009-10-30 After the Warring States treated in Part One of this set there is no more fecund era in Chinese religious and cultural history than the period of division 220 589 AD During it Buddhism conquered China Daoism grew into a mature religion with independent institutions and together with Confucianism these three teachings having each won its share of state recognition and support formed a united front against shamanism While all four religions are covered Buddhism and Daoism receive special attention in a series of parallel chapters on their pantheons rituals sacred geography community organization canon formation impact on literature and recent archaeological discoveries This multi disciplinary approach without ignoring philosophical and theological issues brings into sharp focus the social and historical matrices of Chinese religion Ghosts Don't Ride Bikes, Do They? Andres Miedoso,2017-12-12 After Andres discovers a haunted bike park he calls best friend Desmond a ghost investigator Old Society, New Belief Lisa Raphals,2017-05-01 In the first century of the Common Era two new belief systems entered long established cultures with radically different outlooks and values missionaries started to spread the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth in Rome and the Buddha in China Rome and China were not only ancient cultures but also cultures whose elites felt no need to receive the new beliefs Yet a few centuries later the two new faiths had become so well established that their names were virtually synonymous with the polities they had entered as strangers Although there have been numerous studies addressing this phenomenon in each field the difficulty of mastering the languages and literature of these two great cultures has prevented any sustained effort to compare the two influential religious traditions at their initial period of development This book brings together specialists in the history and religion of Rome and China with a twofold aim First it aims to show in some detail the similarities and differences each religion encountered in the process of merging into a new cultural environment Second by juxtaposing the familiar with the foreign it also aims to capture aspects of this process that could otherwise be overlooked This approach is based on the general proposition that when a new religious belief begins to make contact with a society that has already had long honored beliefs certain areas of contention will inevitably ensue and changes on both sides have to take place There will be a dynamic interchange between the old and the new not only on the narrowly defined level of belief but also on the entire cultural body that nurtures these beliefs Thus this book aims to reassess the nature of each of these religions not as unique cultural phenomena but as part of the whole cultural dynamics of human societies
