

The background of the book cover is an aerial photograph of a coastal region. It shows a large, irregularly shaped bay or inlet, possibly a fjord, surrounded by land. The water is a deep blue, and the land is a lighter, textured blue-grey. The overall tone is monochromatic and serene.

Insurgency in India's Northeast Jugdep S. Chima, Pahi Saikia, 2023-09-01 Insurgency in India's Northeast provides a systematic analysis of every major secessionist group and insurgency in the region within a unified and original explanatory framework focusing primarily on the postcolonial period. This book presents a parsimonious analytic narrative involving a rich sequential account of the historical evolution of Mizo, Naga, Meitei and ethnic Assamese identities from precolonial to colonial to postcolonial times. Avoiding essentialist or primordialist arguments, the chapters in the book demonstrate how ethnic sub-national identities are dynamic and malleable phenomena, not immutable natural givens. In particular, it argues that the postcolonial Indian state has attempted to integrate these ethnic sub-state national groups into the Indian Union through a combination of democratic accommodation, consociationalism and hegemonic violent control, strategically designed to encapsulate their evolving sub-national identities into the overarching state-sponsored Indian nationality. Through this book, readers will gain a rich understanding of the dynamics of ethnicity, nationality and the nation-state building process in postcolonial India. It will be of interest to researchers in the fields of Asian studies, ethnicity, nationalism, separatism, security studies, border studies and international relations.

Ethnic Cleansing Emir Suljagić, 2010. It offers a new approach to understanding why ethnic cleansing appeared to be a viable policy option in former Yugoslavia, unlike other similar multi-ethnic Central and Eastern European socialist states.

The Democratic Republic of the Congo and the Debate in Germany Concerning EUFOR RD Congo Mission Stefan Plenk, 2007-08. Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject Politics International Politics Region Africa grade 1-7. University of Bologna course Political Development in Least developed Countries. 57 entries in the bibliography. Language: English. Abstract: The transformation process in the Democratic Republic of the Congo is one of the most crucial political changes during the last few years. Creating a stable and strong democratic system within the biggest African countries could bring light and development in the former heart of darkness, which could also be extended to other African states. The following paper tries to describe the sad story of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, concentrating on the Mobutu dictatorship and the transition and state-building process. Afterwards, furthermore, it is about the EUFOR RD Congo military mission that should support the transformation process, protecting the presidential elections in 2006. What about the leading nation Germany? Was it difficult to legislate the mission for a state with such a heavy historical burden? What about meanings and opinions in German parliament, the federal army and of course the German people? After the history of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, the text is focussed on the elections in 2006, the EU mission and the debate in Germany concerning military aid for this big African country. In the end, the paper shows details and developments of the EUFOR RD Congo mission, whereby it also tries to analyze whether the mission was a success or failure. The conclusion tries to answer the success or failure thesis as well as it ought to offer an image of the transformation process in the Democratic Republic of the Congo in the future. This seminar paper is very interesting for

A. Ahmed,Michael M. Gunter,2005 The 2003 Iraqi war has heightened Kurdish nationalism not only in the Iraqi Kurdistan but also in Turkey Syria and Iran Having enjoyed 13 years of self government in the safe haven zone which was created and protected by the 1991 Persian Gulf War allies the Iraqi Kurds have embarked on an ambitious campaign to consolidate their political and economic gains of the past thirteen years The Kurds are seeking safeguards from both the Coalition Provisional Authority led by the United States and from the Iraqi Governing Council with a view to preventing the recurrence of past atrocities committed against them by successive Arab governments in Baghdad The Kurdish campaign has faced stiff opposition from their neighbors to their demand for the creation of a federal democratic and secular system of government in Iraq While the Arab opposition inside Iraq are fearful that the introduction of such a system might lead to the disintegration of the country the neighboring countries claim that granting the Kurds greater freedom in Iraq will incite their Kurdish population to demand the same The book presents pros and cons regarding the Kurdish demand Crossing the Border John Coakley,Liam O'Dowd,2007 This timely book provides the first sustained examination of cross border relationships since the momentous sequence of events that began with the Good Friday agreement of 1998 It looks at changing patterns of North South relations in three broad domains politics and public administration the economy and civil society Specific topics covered include the cross border implementation bodies the island economy the voluntary sector education health planning public policy and the EU The book draws on findings from a two year research project embracing a large multi disciplinary team based in Dublin Belfast Dundalk and Armagh The book also sets recent changes in perspective outlining the evolution of cross border relationships between partition in 1920 and the recent comprehensive settlement and exploring the extent to which leaders North and South remained in denial about the evolving impact and implications of the border until the closing decades of the 20th century The authors demonstrate how the search for a settlement in Northern Ireland has created a new dynamic in cross border relationships underlining the critical importance of these relationships in sustaining the peace process In a trenchant assessment of future prospects the book stresses the extent to which new North South relationships have been dependent on external funding from the EU and the US It argues that the diminution of these funds potentially threatens the sustainability of successful cross border programs putting the onus on the two governments to develop a more coherent and strategic approach to cross border co operation Regional Cooperation, Peace Enforcement, and the Role of the Treaties in the Balkans Stefano Bianchini,2007 Politics in the Developing World Peter J.
