Rise Of Christian Europe:

The Rise of Christian Europe Hugh Trevor-Roper, 1989 The Rise of Christian Europe Hugh Redwald

Trevor-Roper, 1963 Christianization and the Rise of Christian Monarchy Nora Berend, 2007-11-22 This 2007 text is a comparative analysis of one of the most fundamental stages in the formation of Europe. Leading scholars explore the role of the spread of Christianity and the formation of new principalities in the birth of Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Bohemia, Hungary, Poland, and Russia around the year 1000. Drawing on history, archaeology, and art history, and emphasizing problems related to the sources and historiographical debates, they demonstrate the complex interdependence between the processes of religious and political change covering conditions prior to the introduction of Christianity, the adoption of Christianity, and the development of the ruler's power. Regional patterns emerge, highlighting both the similarities in ruler-sponsored cases of Christianization and differences in the consolidation of power and in institutions introduced by Christianity. The essays reveal how local societies adopted Christianity, medieval ideas of what constituted the dividing line between Christians and non-Christians, and the connections between Christianity and power. Black Marxism, Revised and Updated Third Edition Cedric J. Robinson, 2020-12-16 In this ambitious work first published in 1983, Cedric Robinson demonstrates that efforts to understand Black people's history of resistance solely through the prism of Marxist theory are incomplete and inaccurate.
Marxist analyses tend to presuppose European models of history and experience that downplay the significance of Black people and Black communities as agents of change and resistance. Black radicalism, Robinson argues, must be linked to the traditions of Africa and the unique experiences of Blacks on Western continents, and any analyses of African American history need to acknowledge this. To illustrate his argument, Robinson traces the emergence of Marxist ideology in Europe, the resistance by Blacks in historically oppressive environments, and the influence of both of these traditions on such important twentieth-century Black radical thinkers as W. E. B. Du Bois, C. L. R. James, and Richard Wright. This revised and updated third edition includes a new preface by Tiffany Willoughby Herard and a new foreword by Robin D. G. Kelley. Black Marxism Reformation presents the major contours of the reformation, including Lutheran, Reformed, English, and Anabaptist movements. Catholic Reform and Counter Reformation provides extensive information on the reforming movements within Catholicism and the responses to other movements. Finally, Early Modern Europe sheds fresh light on the movement and implications of the reformation in the later sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.
