The New York Times bestselling guide to how automation is changing the economy undermining work and reshaping our lives Winner of Best Business Book of the Year awards from the Financial Times and from Forbes Lucid comprehensive and unafraid an indispensable contribution to a long running argument Los Angeles Times What are the jobs of the future How many will there be And who will have them As technology continues to accelerate and machines begin taking care of themselves fewer people will be necessary Artificial intelligence is already well on its way to making good jobs obsolete many paralegals journalists office workers and even computer programmers are poised to be replaced by robots and smart software As progress continues blue and white collar jobs alike will evaporate squeezing working and middle class families ever further At the same time households are under assault from exploding costs especially from the two major industries education and health care that so far have not been transformed by information technology The result could well be massive unemployment and inequality as well as the implosion of the consumer economy itself The past solutions to technological disruption especially more training and education aren't going to work We must decide now whether the future will see broad based prosperity or catastrophic levels of inequality and economic insecurity Rise of the Robots is essential reading to understand what accelerating technology means for our economic prospects not to mention those of our children as well as for society as a whole

Rule of the Robots Martin Ford,2021-09-30 In this sequel to his prescient New York Times bestseller Rise of the Robots Martin Ford presents us with a striking vision of the very near future He argues that AI is a uniquely powerful technology a kind of electricity of intelligence that is altering every dimension of human life often for the better with advanced science being done by machines who can solve problems humans can not AI has the potential to help us fight climate change or the next pandemic but it also has a capacity for profound harm Deep fakes AI generated audio or video of events that never happened are poised to cause havoc throughout society AI empowers authoritarian regimes like China with unprecedented mechanisms for social control And AI can be deeply biased learning bigoted attitudes from the data used to train algorithms and perpetuating them Hard hitting and thought provoking covering everything from self driving cars to the history of deep learning to apps for diagnosing skin cancer Rule of the Robots challenges our fears and preconceptions about artificial intelligence Ford argues that AI is here to stay and the real question is not how to stop it but how to control its negative potential and harness its power for good as AI transforms our economy our politics and our lives

Re-Enacting Sensorimotor Experience for Cognition Guido Schillaci, Verena V. Hafner, Bruno Lara, 2017-03-29 Mastering the sensorimotor capabilities of our body is a skill that we acquire and refine over time starting at the prenatal stages of development This learning process is linked to brain development and is shaped by the rich set of multimodal information experienced while exploring and interacting with the environment Evidence coming from neuroscience suggests the brain forms and maintains body representations as the main strategy to this mastering Although it is still not clear how this knowledge is represented in our brain it is reasonable to think that such internal models of the body undergo a continuous process of adaptation They need to match growing corporal dimensions during development as well as temporary changes in the characteristics of the body such as the transient morphological alterations produced by the usage of tools In the robotics community there is an increasing interest in reproducing similar mechanisms in artificial agents mainly motivated by the aim of producing autonomous adaptive systems that can deal with complexity and uncertainty in human environments Although promising results have been achieved in the context of sensorimotor learning and autonomous generation of body representations it is still not clear how such low level representations can be scaled up to more complex motor skills and how they can enable the development of cognitive capabilities Recent findings from behavioural and brain studies suggests that processes of mental simulations of action perception loops are likely to be executed in our brain and are dependent on internal motor representations The capability to simulate sensorimotor experience might represent a key mechanism behind the implementation of further cognitive skills such as self detection self other distinction and imitation Empirical investigation on the functioning of similar processes in the brain and on their implementation in artificial agents is fragmented This e book comprises a collection of manuscripts published by Frontiers in Robotics and Artificial Intelligence under the section Humanoid Robotics on the research topic re enactment of sensorimotor experience for cognition in artificial agents This compendium aims at condensing the latest theoretical review and experimental studies that address new paradigms for learning and integrating multimodal sensorimotor information in artificial agents re use of the sensorimotor experience for cognitive development and further construction of more complex strategies and behaviours
