Rise Of China Threat Or Opportunity:

China's Rise - Threat Or Opportunity? Herbert S. Yee, 2010-10-15 This book presents a comprehensive overview of how China's rise is perceived in a wide range of countries and regions these include China's neighbours other world powers the parts of China not part of mainland China Taiwan Hong Kong and Macau and regions of the world where China is having an unexpected impact such as the Middle East The Rise of China Ramgopal Agarwala, 2002 Chinese (Taiwan)

Yearbook of International Law and Affairs, Volume 31 (2013) Ying-jeou Ma, 2015-11-24 The Chinese Taiwan Yearbook of International Law and Affairs includes articles and international law materials relating to the Asia Pacific and the Republic of China on Taiwan This volume discusses issues on Cross Straits relations Hong Kong South China Sea disputes and Japanese cases relating to war compensation It provides a detailed account of the 2013 Guang Da Xing No 28 incident and Taiwan's participation in the International Civil Aviation Organization and free trade agreements with New Zealand and Singapore

China's 'Peaceful Rise' in the 21st Century Sujian Guo, 2016-12-05 China's rapid development has attracted worldwide attention in recent years The implications of China's rise from its expanding influence and military muscle to its growing demand for energy supplies are heatedly debated in the international community Jintao's officially proposed concept of peaceful development has become the underlying principle behind Chinese foreign policy under the fourth generation leadership However is peaceful development possible in the broad context of domestic and international development This comprehensive and timely study examines the conditions and challenges of China's peaceful rise and addresses the central question of whether it is possible for China to rise peacefully in the 21st century bearing in mind the implications for China and the rest of the world It is ideal as a supplementary course book in foreign policy Asian politics and development

China's rise and Japan's Malaysia policy (UM Press) Kazuyuki Katayama, 2013-01-01 China emerges as a rising power Japan seems to be declining It is the first time in 150 years since the Opium War and First Sino Japanese War in the 19th century that Japan faces a strong China Japan enjoyed a leading role in Asia for the last century but is now required to respond to China's rising influence correctly and wisely by mobilizing its total powers and attractiveness This book analyzes Japan's past and current status vis vis China's in Malaysia The book compares influences of Japan and China as comprehensively as possible from multi dimensions including political security economic cultural and other soft power aspects It finally recommends a restructuring of Japan's foreign policy towards Malaysia in order to create a solid platform for future Japan Malaysia relations while China's emergence is one of the greatest common diplomatic challenges in our times

The Copenhagen Journal of Asian Studies, 2007 China's Grand Strategy Honghua Men, 2020-04-20 This book aims to build the ideal model of China's grand strategy framework which is based on three key variables national power strategic concept and international institution Taking the rise of China as an opportunity this book adopts the assessment of national strategic resources as the beginning focuses on the evaluation of strategic capability the choice of strategic orientation the establishment of strategic objectives the planning of strategic content and the implementation of strategic means Further following this main line this book establishes a China's grand strategy framework based on active participation and integration transformation shaping process This book emphasizes that to achieve the goals of China's grand strategy China should uphold this strategic attitude It should not be seduced by praise and should not be made aggressive by criticism It should learn to be glorious but remain humble maintain a wealthy influential but modest position by restraint This book can be regarded as the essence of the author's 20 years long term focus and research on the China's grand strategy The author's postdoctoral tutor Professor Hu Angang's comment of this book can hit the nail on the head This book is a pioneering theoretical study of China's great strategic research and makes a significant contribution to this research field The basic arguments of this book have been submitted through various approaches to decision making references or published in academic papers and have received numerous positive responses and resonance In my opinion the basic ideas and important findings of this book will provide imperative reference to long term strategy decision making process In addition the fundamental theory and analysis method of the book will have an important influence in both domestic and international academic field

The Rise of China Wee Nee Koh, 2005

The Impact of China's Belt and Road

Initiative Jeremy Garlick, 2019-11-15 This book merges macro and micro level analysis of the Belt and Road Initiative BRI to dissect China's aim in creating an integrated Eurasian continent through this single mega project BRI has been the source of much interest and confusion as established frameworks of analysis seek to understand China's intentions behind the policy China's international activity in the early 21st century has not yet been successfully theorised by IR scholars because of a failure to satisfactorily encompass its complexity In addition the mix and match syncretism of the Chinese approach to foreign policy has been under emphasised or omitted in many analyses Bringing together complexity thinking and analytic eclecticism to assess the degree to which this scheme can transform international relations Garlick critically examines this large scale interconnectivity project and its potential impacts The book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners in the field of international relations and China studies including academics policy makers and diplomats around the world

Politics, Development and Security in Oceania David Hegarty, Darrell Tryon, 2013-04-01 French and Australian collaborative research in the humanities and the social sciences in the South Pacific has grown and intensified significantly over the past two decades beginning with the international symposium Changing Identities in the Pacific at the Dawn of the Twenty First Century held at the Australian Embassy in Paris in 1997 In April 2006 another French government sponsored international symposium AGORA Ateliers Gouvernance et Recherche Appliquée was held at IRD Institut de Recherche pour le Développement Noumea New Caledonia major themes being governance and economic development again bringing together Francophone and Anglophone scholars from France and the Pacific region This was followed in October 2009 by two conjoint Francophone Anglophone conferences held at the IRD Centre in Noumea Stability Security and Development in Oceania preceded by AGORA 2 an international conference on Anglophone research in the humanities and the social sciences in the Francophone Pacific sponsored by the French Government and the Government of New Caledonia The first of these conferences was sponsored by the French Fonds Pacifique and the State Society and Governance Program at The Australian National University An edited selection of presentations from this symposium constitutes the present volume Preface

Challenges Facing Chinese Political Development Sujian Guo, Baogang Guo, 2007 Examining the challenges of Chinese political development from a holistic perspective each of the authors emphasizes a particular dimension of political culture political economy foreign policy and environmental and social challenges Korea and the Dual Chinese Challenge Nicolas Françoise, 2005 The objective of this paper is to examine the exact nature of the Chinese challenge for the Korea and assess what may be the most appropriate response to mitigate the risks and maximize the potential benefits associated with it The paper also suggests that this FTA has to be associated with other arrangements with China and ASEAN if Korea wants to keep some leverage over the future of the East Asian integration process P 4 of cover Views & Policies, 2006

Facing China's Rise Philip Andrews-Speed, 2006 With its booming economy China is emerging as the key player in Asia Pacific and possibly as the world's next superpower So far China has mainly developed as a trading power concentrating on the expansion of its economy and retaining a relatively restricted international role However there is no doubt that the dynamic rise of China poses major challenges to the status quo in the region with consequences for its neighbours and other powers present there such as the US and increasingly also the EU What are the implications of China's rise for the EU The transatlantic dispute over the arms embargo has highlighted the need for the EU to develop its own security perspective on China which would address among others the issues of China's defence policy and the modernisation of its military the security situation in East Asia and Pacific as well as China's energy policy This Chaillot Paper provides an analysis of some aspects of China's domestic transformation and its evolving international relations with a view to providing guidelines towards the development of effective EU strategic thinking on China The Rise of China Jun Tsunekawa, 2009 Review of International Studies, 2005 Economic Commentary Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, 2003 The Chinese

Economy, 2000 中国政治与外交, 2005 2003 30 Chinese Politics and International Relations Nicola Horsburgh, Astrid Nordin, Shaun Breslin, 2014-01-03 The question of how China will relate to a globalising world is one of the key issues in contemporary international relations and scholarship on China yet the angle of innovation has not been properly addressed within the field This book explores innovation in China from an International Relations perspective in terms of four areas foreign and security policy international relations theory soft power image management and resistance Under the complex condition of globalisation innovation becomes a particularly useful analytical concept because it is well suited to capturing the hybridity of actors and processes under globalisation By adopting this theme studies not only reveal a China struggling to make the future through innovation but also call attention to how China itself is made in the process The book is divided into four sections Part 1 focuses on conceptual innovation in China's foreign and security policies since 1949 Part 2 explores theoretical innovation in terms of a potential Chinese school of International Relations Theory Part 3 expands on innovation in terms of image management a form of soft power in particular how China exports its image both to a domestic and foreign audience Part 4 highlights how innovation is used in China by grassroots popular groups to resist official narratives This book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese studies Chinese foreign policy and international relations international relations theory and East Asian security
