Rising Sun Blinking Jose Maria Lacambra, 2010-03-11 In the middle of 1942 the Japanese landed in Iloilo deep in the heart of the Philippine Archipelago Earlier like a skittish octopus the Japanese Empire had spread its tentacles across the islands after the last American strongholds of Bataan and Corregidor had fallen Jose Lacambra was only eleven years old when the Japanese occupied Iloilo His firsthand account of the adventures and rites of passage were drawn from a diary he kept during those war years With wry wit and a sharp memory for detail he re creates the horror adventure and excitement of those unforgettable years describing them all with a novelists skill and style

Inside the Bataan Death March Kevin C. Murphy, 2014-10-27 For two weeks during the spring of 1942 the Bataan Death March one of the most widely condemned atrocities of World War II unfolded The prevailing interpretation of this event is simple American prisoners of war suffered cruel treatment at the hands of their Japanese captors while Filipinos sympathetic to the Americans looked on Most survivors of the march wrote about their experiences decades after the war and a number of factors distorted their accounts The crucial aspect of memory is central to this study how it is constructed by whom and for what purpose This book questions the prevailing interpretation reconsiders the actions of all three groups in their cultural contexts and suggests a far greater complexity Among the conclusions is that violence on the march was largely the result of a clash of cultures undisciplined individualistic Americans encountered Japanese who valued order and form while Filipinos were active even ambitious participants in the drama

The Other Empire Ronald D.
