Rising Life Expectancy A Global History:

Rising Life Expectancy James C. Riley, 2001-06-04 Between 1800 and 2000 life expectancy at birth rose from about 30 years to a global average of 67 years and to more than 75 years in favored countries This dramatic change was called a health transition characterized by a transition both in how long people expected to live and how they expected to die Rising Life Expectancy examines the way humans reduced risks to their survival both regionally and globally to promote world population growth and population aging

A Global History of Medicine Mark Jackson, 2018-01-05 In recent decades there has been considerable interest in writing histories of medicine that capture local regional and global dimensions of health and health care in the same frame Exploring changing patterns of disease and different systems of medicine across continents and countries A Global History of Medicine provides a rich introduction to this emergent field The introductory chapter addresses the challenges of writing the history of medicine across space and time and suggests ways in which tracing the entangled histories of the patchworks of practice that have constituted medicine allow us to understand how healing traditions are always plural permeable and shaped by power and privilege Written by scholars from around the world and accompanied by suggestions for further reading individual chapters explore historical developments in health medicine and disease in China the Islamic World North and Latin America Africa South east Asia Western and Eastern Europe and Australia and New Zealand The final chapter focuses on smallpox eradication and reflects on the sources and methods necessary to integrate local and global dimensions of medicine more effectively Collectively the contributions to A Global History of Medicine will not only be invaluable to undergraduate and postgraduate students seeking to expand their knowledge of health and medicine across time but will also provide a constructive theoretical and empirical platform for future scholarship

A History of Population Health Johan P. Mackenbach, 2020-04-14 Winner of the 2021 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Award In A History of Population Health Johan P Mackenbach offers a broad sweeping study of the spectacular changes in people s health in Europe since the early 18th century Most of the 40 specific diseases covered in this book show a fascinating pattern of rise and fall with large differences in timing between countries Using a unique collection of historical data and bringing together insights from demography economics sociology political science medicine epidemiology and general history it shows that these changes and variations did not occur spontaneously but were mostly man made Throughout European history changes in health and longevity were therefore closely related to economic social and political conditions with public health and medical care both making important contributions to population health improvement Readers who would like to have a closer look at the quantitative data used in the trend graphs included in the book can find these it here

Krebsforschung 1920-1970 Gabriele Moser, 2011 English summary Normal medical research and its support from public funds is a hitherto barely explored field of historical analysis Using German cancer research in the 20th Century as an example which was characterized by strong dynamics and interdisciplinary scientific issues Gabriele Moser investigates the basics of medical research funding through the Emergency Association DFG The temporal contextualization of the theme over the years 1933 and 1945 opens up the view on the steering of science in the Nazi state its history and its aftermath without degrading the researchers to merely passive objects German text German description Medizinische Normalforschung und ihre Forderung aus öffentlichen Geldern ist ein bislang wenig bearbeitetes Feld historischer Analyse Am Beispiel der deutschen Krebsforschung im 20. Jahrhundert die von starker wissenschaftlicher Dynamik und interdisziplinären Fragestellungen geprägt war untersucht Gabriele Moser die Grundlinien der medizinischen Forschungsforderung durch die Notgemeinschaft DFG Die zeitliche Kontextualisierung des Themas über die Epochenmarken von 1933 und 1945 hinweg öffnet den Blick auf die Wissenschaftslenkung des NS Staates ihre Vorgeschichte und ihre Nachwirkungen ohne dabei die Forscher und Forscherinnen zu bloß passiven Objekten zu degradieren Zusammenstellungen von Bearbeiterinnen und Forschungsthemen ergänzen die Darstellung Human Capital Formation, Life Expectancy and the Process of Economic Development Matteo Cervellati, Uwe Sunde, 2002 Global Health Challenges for Human Security Lincoln C. Chen, Jennifer Leaning, Vasant Narasimhan, 2003 This volume explores the evolving relationship between health and security in today's interdependent world and offers policy guidelines for effective global health action The 15 chapters in this volume represent invited contributions from distinguished leaders in global health commissioned by Harvard University's Global Equity Initiative a research unit supporting the work of the international Commission on Human Security The Fletcher Forum of World Affairs, 2003 Program of the ... Annual Meeting American Historical Association. Meeting, 2002 Review - Fernand Braudel Center for the Study of Economies, Historical Systems, and Civilizations Fernand Braudel Center for the Study of Economies, Historical Systems, and Civilizations, 2004 Is Socialism Feasible? Geoffrey Martin Hodgson, 2019 After being proclaimed dead there is now a major revival of socialist ideology in the West But what does socialism mean This book shows that it is irretrievably associated with common ownership The twentieth century experience of comprehensive national planning with state ownership has been disastrous and in no case has democracy endured within large scale socialism This volume explains why The alternative socialist option of worker owned cooperatives must accept a major role for markets that many socialists reject Featuring theoretical arguments and practical investigations Geoffrey M Hodgson interrogates the failures of socialist states scrutinizing the impact and outcomes of a centralized politico economic system This timely and convincing book offers insight into the twentieth century experience of comprehensive national planning deploying less well known criticisms from Albert Schaffle and Michael Polanyi Hodgson's nuanced approach brings together small scale socialist praxis and principles of liberal solidarity exploring an experimental approach to political and economic reform Provocative insightful and accessible this book is of considerable interest to any reader with an appetite for the history of socialist theory as well as those keen to explore new insights to heterodox economics Students and academics of the social sciences and humanities will benefit from this book's rigorous empirical approach to historic and contemporary socialist states and its in depth discussion of Austrian school theory
