Risks We Run Mining Communities And Political Risk Insurance:

Rocks and Hard Places Roger Moody, 2007-04 The world of international mining is changing rapidly Mineral consumption is outstripping the capabilities of both communities and fragile ecosystems to cope with bigger and bigger mines This book identifies mining s key players and presents the costs for local communities and environment Research Handbook on Law, Environment and the Global South Philippe Cullet, Sujith Koonan, 2019 This comprehensive Research Handbook offers an innovative analysis of environmental law in the global South and contributes to an important reassessment of some of its major underlying concepts The Research Handbook discusses areas rarely prioritized in environmental law such as land rights and underlines how these intersect with issues including poverty livelihoods and the use of natural resources challenging familiar narratives around development and sustainability in this context and providing new insights into environmental justice Public Actors in International Investment Law Catharine Titi, 2021-03-03 This open access book focuses on public actors with a role in the settlement of investment disputes Traditional studies on actors in international investment law have tended to concentrate on arbitrators claimant investors and respondent states Yet this focus on the principal players in investment dispute settlement has allowed a number of other seminal actors to be neglected This book seeks to redress this imbalance by turning the spotlight on the latter From the investor's home state to domestic courts from sub national governments to international organisations and from political risk insurance agencies to legal defence teams in national ministries the book critically reviews these overlooked public actors in international investment Natural Resources and Sustainable Development Celine Tan, Julio Faundez, 2017-08-25 Examining the law law regulation and governance of natural resources this timely work addresses the conflicts and contradictions arising at the intersection between international economic law sustainable development and other areas of international law most notably human rights law and environmental law Bringing together a collection of legal and policy expertise from a range of academic and practitioner perspectives this book will appeal to scholars of law political science international relations political economy and development studies The Risks We Run Roger Moody, 2005 This critique of political risk insurance PRI the type of insurance used by large scale mining projects includes six case studies that show how PRI has severe negative social and environmental impacts on mining communities Included are descriptions of such landmark cases as the Omai gold mine in Guyana which was insured through PRI by the World Bank and the Canadian government and whose waste facilities completely collapsed causing the country's worst environmental disaster in recorded history Conclusions are drawn about the failure of agencies such as the World Bank to anticipate the consequences of major mining projects and consider the effects of large scale mining on sustainable development Sustainable Minerals Operations in the Developing World Geological Society of London, 2005 The sustainable development of minerals which are non renewable resources is a major challenge in today s world In this regard the true definition of sustainability is a debating point in itself can such a concept exist with respect to non renewable resources Perhaps the ideal sustainability model is one that minimizes negative environmental impact and maximizes benefits to society the economy and regional national development Developed and near developed economies rely for commodity supplies on developing countries where major mining operations are often a mainstay of the domestic economy Limited environmental regulation and low wages lead to charges of exploitation Also large numbers of people have no alternative to living by informal often dangerous artisanal mining This Special Publication gives examples from developing countries from all scales of mineral extraction The volume reviews environmental economic health and social problems and highlights the need to solve these before sustainability can be achieved The better solutions require mutual understanding through full involvement of all stakeholders education training and investment so that small scale and artisanal mines can grow into well managed operations At larger scales most major international mining companies have now improved their practices and are monitoring their progress although there is no room for complacency in this rapidly changing area Mining Capitalism Stuart Kirsch, 2014-06-07 Corporations are among the most powerful institutions of our time but they are also responsible for a wide range of harmful social and environmental impacts Consequently political movements and nongovernmental organizations increasingly contest the risks that corporations pose to people and nature Mining Capitalism examines the strategies through which corporations manage their relationships with these critics and adversaries By focusing on the conflict over the Ok Tedi copper and gold mine in Papua New Guinea Stuart Kirsch tells the story of a slow moving environmental disaster and the international network of indigenous peoples advocacy groups and lawyers that sought to protect local rivers and rain forests Along the way he analyzes how corporations promote their interests by manipulating science and invoking the discourses of sustainability and social responsibility Based on two decades of anthropological research this book is comparative in scope showing readers how similar dynamics operate in other industries around the world Unearthing Justice Joan Kuyek, 2019-09-12 The mining industry continues to be at the forefront of colonial dispossession around the world It controls information about its intrinsic costs and benefits propagates myths about its contribution to the economy shapes government policy and regulation and deals ruthlessly with its opponents Brimming with case studies anecdotes resources and illustrations Unearthing Justice exposes the mining process and its externalized impacts on the environment Indigenous Peoples communities workers and governments But most importantly the book shows how people are fighting back Whether it is to stop a mine before it starts to get an abandoned mine cleaned up to change Laws and policy or to mount a campaign to influence investors Unearthing Justice is an essential handbook for anyone trying to protect the places and people they love Large-scale Mines and Local-level Politics Colin Filer, Pierre-Yves Le Meur, 2017-10-20 Despite the difference in their populations and political status New Caledonia and Papua New Guinea have comparable levels of economic dependence on the extraction and export of mineral resources For this reason the costs and benefits of large scale mining projects for indigenous communities has been a major political issue in both jurisdictions and one that has come to be negotiated through multiple channels at different levels of political organisation The resource boom that took place in the early years of the current century has only served to intensify the political contests and conflicts that surround the distribution of social economic and environmental costs and benefits between community members and other stakeholders in the large scale mining industry However the mutual isolation of Anglophone and Francophone scholars has formed a barrier to systematic comparison of the relationship between large scale mines and local level politics in Papua New Guinea and New Caledonia despite their geographical proximity This collection of essays represents an effort to overcome this barrier but is also intended as a major contribution to the growth of academic and political debate about the social impact of the large scale mining industry in Melanesia and Yearbook on International Investment Law & Policy 2014-2015 Andrea K. Bjorklund, 2016-09-30 Several bevond themes emerge in this 2014 2015 edition of the Yearbook The first is a notable focus on country and region specific developments Different articles focus on key developments in such countries as Australia Brazil China Ghana India Indonesia Russia and South Africa Others focus on regional innovations in particular in Latin America A second area of attention is reform and proposals for reform in investor state dispute settlement and in investment law generally. The third theme is the continued concern about states regulatory autonomy and the importance of their retaining ability to protect the interests of their nationals A fourth theme concerns the continued contribution that investment arbitration makes to the development of international law and the influence that it is starting to have on other areas of law whether that is as a source of inspiration in the interpretation of other norms or as a source of potentially powerful persuasive authority given the teeth that investment law has with respect to enforcement Included are the winning memorials of the FDI Moot for both 2014 and 2015 In 2014 a team from the University of Ottawa submitted the winning claimant's memorial while students from Harvard Law School submitted the winning respondent s memorial In 2015 Harvard repeated its stellar performance again winning best respondent s memorial The winning claimant s memorial in 2015 was submitted by students from the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens These excellent memorials reveal once again the growing interest of students in international investment law and demonstrate a striving for excellence and an enthusiasm for grappling with intellectually challenging issues Yearbook on International Investment Law and Policy 2014-2015 Andrea K. Bjorklund, Full Professor L Yves Fortier Chair in International Arbitration and International Commercial Law Andrea K Bjorklund, 2016-10-28 The 2014 2015 edition of the Yearbook covers several important themes There is a notable focus on country and region specific developments in countries such as Australia Brazil China Ghana India Indonesia Russia and South Africa along with regional innovations in Latin America This edition provides a comprehensive and insightful assessment of reform and proposals for reform in investor state dispute settlement and in investment law This edition goes on to assess the topic of states regulatory autonomy and their ability to protect nationals and explores the contribution of investment arbitration to the development of international law and its influence on law in general Materials World ,2006 Risk ,1997 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009 African Mining ,2008 New Scientist and Science Journal ,2000-12

Foreign Direct Investment and the Environment Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, Global Forum on International Investment, 2002 Foreign direct investment FDI is one of the forces fostering closer economic interdependence among countries and the rapid increase in FDI flows has generated debate about its environmental and social implications in host countries This volume contains some of the edited papers presented at an OECD conference held in France in February 2002 to consider the environmental aspects of FDI in the mining sector It examines empirical evidence in order to identify the key environmental challenges in this sector and highlight emerging best practices It discusses the key elements of policy and institutional frameworks that guide investors environmental behaviour as well as the emerging role of voluntary commitments by enterprises to safeguard the environment New Scientist, 2000 Report from Europe, 1978 Scottish Banking and Insurance Magazine, 1882
