Ritual And Religion In The Making Of Humanity:

Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity Roy A. Rappaport, 1999-03-25 Roy Rappaport argues that religion is central to the continuing evolution of life although it has been displaced from its original position of intellectual authority by the rise of modern science His book which could be construed as in some degree religious as well as about religion insists that religion can and must be reconciled with science Combining adaptive and cognitive approaches to the study of humankind he mounts a comprehensive analysis of religion s evolutionary significance seeing it as co extensive with the invention of language and hence of culture as we know it At the same time he assembles the fullest study yet of religion s main component ritual which constructs the conceptions which we take to be religious and has been central in the making of humanity s adaptation The text amounts to a manual for effective ritual illustrated by examples drawn from anthropology history philosophy comparative religion and elsewhere Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity ,2001

Tallis, 2016-04-30 Perceptive passionate and often controversial Raymond Tallis s latest debunking of Kulturkritik delves into a host of ethical and philosophical issues central to contemporary thought raising questions we cannot afford to ignore After reading Enemies of Hope those minded to misrepresent mankind in ways that are almost routine amongst humanist intellectuals may be inclined to think twice By clearing away the hysterical humanism of the present century Enemies of Hope frees us to start thinking constructively about the way forward for humanity in the next Encyclopedia of Religion and Nature Bron Taylor, Jeffrey Kaplan, 2005-01-01 No Marketing Blurb Making Human Rights Intelligible Mikael Rask Madsen, Gert Verschraegen, 2013-03-20 Human rights have become a defining feature of contemporary society permeating public discourse on politics law and culture But why did human rights emerge as a key social force in our time and what is the relationship between rights and the structures of both national and international society By highlighting the institutional and socio cultural context of human rights this timely and thought provoking collection provides illuminating insights into the emergence and contemporary societal significance of human rights Drawn from both sides of the Atlantic and adhering to refreshingly different theoretical orientations the contributors to this volume show how sociology can develop our understanding of human rights and how the emergence of human rights relates to classical sociological questions such as social change modernisation or state formation Making Human Rights Intelligible provides an important sociological account of the development of international human rights It will be of interest to human rights scholars and sociologists of law and anyone wishing to deepen their understanding of one of the most significant issues of our time Neely's History of the Parliament of Religions and Religious Congresses at the World's Columbian Exposition Walter Raleigh Houghton, 1894 The Making of the Modern Mind John Herman Randall, 1926 Unitarian Review and Religious Magazine ,1874 The Unitarian Review and Religious Magazine

Charles Lowe, Henry Wilder Foote, John Hopkins Morison, Henry H.
