Online Virality Valérie Schafer, Fred Pailler, 2024-08-19 The book Online Virality edited by Valérie Schafer and Fred Pailler C2DH University of Luxembourg aims to provide a comprehensive examination of online virality It explores the many ways we can think about this modern phenomenon and analyse the circulation reception and evolution of viral born digital content Virality and content sharing always intertwine material infrastructural visual and discursive elements This involves various platforms stakeholders intermediaries social groups and communities that are constantly re defining themselves Regulation curation and content moderation politics as well as affects and emotions fears humour empathy hatred are also at the core of online virality The publication offers an interdisciplinary overview on online virality by including different types of scientific inputs such as precise case studies various methodological approaches including close and distant reading visual studies discourse analysis etc as well as historical and socio technical analyses The book is organised around three main topics Expressions and Genres Mobilisations and Engagements Circulation and Infrastructures The first part explores the semiotics of virality the diverse and creative forms of expression specific genres the relation to other media and the affective side of virality such as using humour or provocation The second part focuses on the political dimension of memes and viral content and their use in the context of controversy or political and ideological opposition Finally the third part delves into the often understudied but essential side of virality by examining the role of platforms and their curation in short the infrastructural dimension of virality These three parts allow us to question such fundamental notions linked to virality as among others circulation reception economy of attention instrumentalisation and affect This volume brings together authors from various disciplines including semiotics history information and communication sciences computer science digital humanities media studies In addition the contributors approach the question via case studies that allow for a perspective that is not exclusively US and European centred Some chapters explore virality in Brazil Chile while the book also examines a wide variety of platforms YouTube Twitter Instagram TikTok video game platforms etc

Memes in Frame-Semantic Perspective Niels Brause, 2017-03-07 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1.3 University of Duisburg Essen Department of Anglophone Studies language English abstract One cannot escape them because they are everywhere There is scarcely a day without one coming across them They are a humorous picture a witty message or a funny video you find on the internet They are in our newsfeed on our message boards or in personal messages from our friends These sources of entertainment seem to be by now an important element of today's web society and there is a huge number of image boards like 9gag.com or reddit.com which have no other purpose than satisfying our needs for these sources of entertainment Even a growing number of newspapers have started to include this type of content in their online platforms A term that is often used to describe this accumulation of different visual entities is the term memes but this term is vague and ambiguous and it does not specifically say what kind of phenomena are included in it This bachelor thesis is an attempt to establish these phenomena labelled as memes as valuable objects for linguistic studies It will glance at several linguistic theories and check their relevance for analysing image macros as representatives for memes in general Finally it will analyse image macros by using the frame semantic framework thus integrating the former accomplished insights in one theoretic framework with only a few central terms This will support the thesis that frame semantics is capable of describing the patterns of encyclopaedic knowledge needed in order to understand complex bimodal entities
