Making Literacy Real Joanne Larson, Jackie Marsh, 2005-09-08 Joanne Larson and Jackie Marsh's Literacy Learning is easily the most theoretically sophisticated and practically useful discussion of sociocultural and critical approaches to literacy learning that has appeared to date. James Paul Gee, Tashia Morgridge, Professor of Reading, University of Wisconsin-Madison. Making Literacy Real is the essential reference text for primary education students at undergraduate and graduate level who want to understand literacy theory and successfully apply it in the classroom. Doctoral students will find this a useful resource in understanding the relationship of theory to practice. The authors explore the breadth of this complex and important field, orientating literacy as a social practice grounded in social, cultural, historical, and political contexts of use. They also present a detailed and accessible discussion of the theory and its application in the primary classroom. The book covers: o Defining literacy, multimodalities, and new literacies o Digital literacies o New literacy studies o Critical literacy o Sociocultural historical theory o Connecting theoretical frameworks o Implications for teacher education and literacy research Each chapter examines a theoretical model accompanied by a discussion of case study material with a leading proponent of the field, including Barbara Comber, Michele Knobel, Colin Lankshear, Barbara Rogoff, and Brian Street. When

In Mrs. Goins' classroom, these relationships are called partnerships. In this book, Crystal Goins shares her own personal story in creating a partnership approach to classroom management. Through her system called PART, she teaches her students and parents how to partner with the teacher in all areas of school readiness and academic success. She explicitly teaches routines and procedures with her students in mind.
