shepherds who commit their sheep in the wolf's custody Corrado Poli treats mobility policy as a political ethical social and educational issue rather than as a mere civil engineering one Mobility and Environment challenges some deeply entrenched professional and economic monopolies which negatively affect urban and transportation planning in North America and Europe and argues the old idea which bounded transportation and communication A real environmentalist effort in traffic planning should begin from new technologies and from the analysis of citizens preferences A series of new projects are presented which include mobility demand reduction and focus on democracy in planning
