Foreign Aid: New Perspectives K. L. Gupta, 2012-12-06 Foreign aid has been an area of active scholarly investigation since the end of the Second World War but particularly since the early 1950s when a large number of the erstwhile colonies became independent Few areas of public policy involving the developed and developing countries have aroused more passion and ideological debate than foreign aid In spite of the massive amount of research in the field there is still not enough work in two areas the first involves the mechanisms through which aid influences the economies of the donor and the recipient countries and the second country specific assessments of the effectiveness of foreign aid Foreign Aid New Perspectives is aimed at making a contribution in these two areas The contents of this volume are divided into four parts Part I deals with some theoretical aspects of foreign aid while the second part analyzes some general policy aspects Part III turns to the donor experience and includes one paper on the Danish experience The last part considers the recipient experience and consists of five case studies projections for the years to come are given Macroeconomic indicators are explained and how these underpin the poverty levels in the 2050 horizon Other areas explored are natural resources notably land and water as well as capital investment and technology

Africa in Contemporary Perspective Manuh, Takyiwaa, Sutherland-Addy, Esi, 2014-05-08 An important feature of Ghanaian tertiary education is the foundational African Studies Programme which was initiated in the early 1960s Unfortunately hardly any readers exist which bring together a body of knowledge on the themes issues and debates which inform and animate research and teaching in African Studies particularly on the African continent This becomes even more important when we consider the need for knowledge on Africa that is not Eurocentric or sensationalised but driven from internal understandings of life and prospects in Africa Dominant representations and perceptions of Africa usually depict a continent in crisis Rather than buying into external representations of Africa with its lacks and aspirations for Western modernities we insist that African scholars in particular should be in the forefront of promoting understanding of the plural overlapping and dense reality of life and developments on the continent to produce relevant and usable knowledge Continuing and renewed interest in Africa's resources including the land mass economy minerals visual arts and performance cultures as well as bio medical knowledge and products by old and new geopolitical players obliges African scholars to transcend disciplinary boundaries and to work with each other to advance knowledge and uses of those resources in the interests of Africa's people

Agricultural development: New perspectives in a changing world Otsuka, Keiji, ed., Fan, Shenggen, ed., 2021-01-14 Agricultural Development New Perspectives in a Changing World is the first comprehensive exploration of key emerging issues facing developing country agriculture today from rapid urbanization to rural transformation to climate change In this four part volume top experts offer the latest research in the field of agricultural development Using new lenses to examine today's biggest challenges contributors address topics such as nutrition and health gender and household decision making agrifood value chains natural resource management and political economy The book also covers most developing regions providing a critical global perspective at a time when many pressing challenges extend beyond national borders Tying all this together Agricultural Development explores policy options and strategies for developing sustainable agriculture and reducing food insecurity and malnutrition The changing global landscape combined with new and better data technologies and understanding means that agriculture can and must contribute to a wider range of development outcomes than ever before including reducing poverty ensuring adequate nutrition creating strong food value chains improving environmental sustainability and promoting gender equity and equality Agricultural Development New Perspectives in a Changing World with its unprecedented breadth and scope will be an indispensable resource for the next generation of policymakers researchers and students dedicated to improving agriculture for global wellbeing
