Entrepreneurship as Experience Michael H. Morris, Christopher G. Pryor, Minet Schindehutte, 2012 Do entrepreneurs create ventures or do venture experiences create entrepreneurs The authors of Entrepreneurship as Experience propose that the answer is both This important volume examines how individuals experience the creation of a venture as it happens and how that experience determines the types of entrepreneur and venture that ultimately emerge In essence entrepreneurship is an experience consisting of large numbers of key events such as a first sale hiring a first employee losing a big account events that are processed and made sense of by the entrepreneur They produce cognitive emotional and physiological responses which impact decision making and behavior The result is an experience that is purposive diverse uncertain ambiguous and transformative and unique to each individual Here the authors argue that as experience unfolds both entrepreneur and venture are being constructed and emerge in unique forms This experiential view introduces an entirely new lens through which entrepreneurship can be examined Entrepreneurship as Experience comprises chapters dedicated to sociological anthropological and psychological research related to human experiencing the volume presents a new frame for understanding the role of emotions and feelings in venture creation and lays out a conceptual framework for understanding how real time experiencing informs the entrepreneurial process New insights are provided regarding how the entrepreneurial mindset and an entrepreneurial identity are formed and why entrepreneurs take on certain traits and develop certain competencies Further the authors put forth new approaches to conducting research on the entrepreneurial experience Students advanced as well as undergraduate and scholars of entrepreneurship innovation strategy and management will find themselves turning often to the ideas and research presented here

Perspective in Whitehead's Metaphysics Stephen David Ross, 1983-01-01 Stephen David Ross presents an extensive detailed and critical interpretation of Whitehead's mature thought emphasizing the fundamental role of perspective in Whitehead's cosmology and tracing the conflicts and difficulties therein to tensions involving perspective in relation to other central features of Whitehead's thought Ross isolates four principles as having a fundamental role in Whitehead's metaphysics perspective cosmology experience and mechanical analysis He argues that many of Whitehead's difficulties can be eliminated by raising the principle of perspective to prominence and by revising the other central features of Whitehead's theory accordingly This book addresses key Whiteheadian texts and secondary interpretations of Whitehead The discussion ranges over most of Whitehead's theory in Process and Reality and offers a number of significant and in some cases novel views on different aspects of Whitehead's theory perception prehension causation objective immortality self causation the extensive continuum natural order possibility concreteness and God Ross's concluding suggestions for modifying Whitehead's system promise to occasion much debate among process philosophers theologians and anyone concerned with Whitehead's thought
