Perspectives On School Algebra:

Perspectives on School Algebra Rosamund Sutherland, Teresa Rojano, Alan Bell, Romulo Lins, 2006-02-16 This book confronts the issue of how young people can find a way into the world of algebra It represents multiple perspectives which include an analysis of situations in which algebra is an efficient problem solving tool the use of computer based technologies and a consideration of the historical evolution of algebra The book emphasizes the situated nature of algebraic activity as opposed to being concerned with identifying students conceptions in isolation from problem solving activity

Mathematical Proficiency for All Students: Toward a Strategic Research and Development Program in Mathematics Education Deborah Loewenberg, 2003-04-15 A clear need exists for substantial improvement in mathematics proficiency in U S schools The RAND Mathematics Study Panel was convened to inform the U S Department of Education s Office of Educational Research and Improvement on ways to improve the quality and usability of education research and development R teaching and learning of skills needed for mathematical thinking and problem solving and teaching and learning of algebra from kindergarten through the 12th grade

Second Handbook of Research on Mathematics Teaching and Learning Frank K. Lester, 2007-02-01 The audience remains much the same as for the 1992 Handbook namely mathematics education researchers and other scholars conducting work in mathematics education This group includes college and university faculty graduate students investigators in research and development centers and staff members at federal state and local agencies that conduct and use research within the discipline of mathematics The intent of the authors of this volume is to provide useful perspectives as well as pertinent information for conducting investigations that are informed by previous work The Handbook should also be a useful textbook for graduate research seminars In addition to the audience mentioned above the present Handbook contains chapters that should be relevant to four other groups teacher educators curriculum developers state and national policy makers and test developers and others involved with assessment Taken as a whole the chapters reflects the mathematics education research community s willingness to accept the challenge of helping the public understand what mathematics education research is all about and what the relevance of their research findings might be for those outside their immediate community

Connecting Abstract Algebra to Secondary Mathematics, for Secondary Mathematics Teachers Nicholas H. Wasserman, 2018-12-12 Secondary mathematics teachers are frequently required to take a large number of mathematics courses including advanced mathematics courses such as abstract algebra as part of their initial teacher preparation program and or their continuing professional development The content areas of advanced and secondary mathematics are closely connected Yet despite this connection many secondary teachers insist that such advanced mathematics is unrelated to their future professional work in the classroom This edited volume elaborates on some of the connections between abstract algebra and secondary mathematics including why and in what ways they may be important for secondary teachers Notably the volume disseminates research findings about how secondary teachers engage with and make sense of abstract algebra ideas both in general and in relation to their own teaching as well as offers itself as a place to share practical ideas and resources for secondary mathematics teacher preparation and professional development Contributors to the book are scholars who have both experience in the mathematical preparation of secondary teachers especially in relation to abstract algebra as well as those who have engaged in related educational research The volume addresses some of the persistent issues in secondary mathematics teacher education in connection to advanced mathematics courses as well as situates and conceptualizes different ways in which abstract algebra might be influential for teachers of algebra Connecting Abstract Algebra to Secondary Mathematics for Secondary Mathematics Teachers is a productive resource for mathematics teacher educators who teach capstone courses or content focused methods courses as well as for abstract algebra instructors interested in making connections to secondary mathematics

Perspectives on the Teaching of Mathematics Rheta Norma Pollock Rubenstein, George W. Bright, 2004 Teaching is a complex ongoing endeavor that involves a myriad of decisions NCTM's sixty sixth yearbook is organised around three aspects of teaching foundations for teaching the enactment of teaching and the support of teaching nurtured in preservice education and strengthened throughout a teacher's career. The accompanying professional development guidebook edited by George W. Bright contains activities that illustrate and extend some of the ideas in the yearbook in order to further teachers' growth and development in understanding and implementing effective mathematics instruction.

New Perspectives in Algebra, Topology and Categories Maria Manuel Clementino, Alberto Facchini, Marino Gran, 2021-10-16

This book provides an introduction to some key subjects in algebra and topology. It consists of comprehensive texts of some hours' courses on the preliminaries for several advanced theories in categorical algebra and topology. Often this kind of presentation is not so easy to find in the literature where one begins articles by assuming a lot of knowledge in the field. This volume can both help young researchers to quickly get into the subject by offering a kind of roadmap and also help master students to be aware of the basics of other research directions in these fields before deciding to specialize in one of them. Furthermore, it can be used by established researchers who need a particular result for their own research and do not want to go through several research papers in order to understand a single proof. Although the chapters can be read as self-contained chapters, the authors have tried to coordinate the texts in order to make them complementary. The seven chapters of this volume correspond to the seven courses taught in two Summer Schools that took place in Louvain-la-Neuve in the frame of the project Fonds d'Appui à l'Internationalisation of the Université catholique de Louvain to strengthen the collaborations with the universities of Coimbra, Padova, and Poitiers within the Coimbra Group.
