Ferruccio Busoni and His Legacy Erinn E. Knyt, 2017-05-22 An analysis of the composer's unconventional teaching style and philosophy his relationship with his students and his effect on twentieth century music Many students of renowned composer conductor and teacher Ferruccio Busoni had illustrious careers of their own yet the extent to which their mentor's influence helped shape their success was largely unexplored until now Through rich archival research including correspondence essays and scores Erinn E Knyt presents an evocative account of Busoni's idiosyncratic pedagogy focused on aesthetic ideals rather than methodologies or techniques and how this teaching style and philosophy can be seen and heard in the Nordic inspired musical works of Sibelius the unusual soundscapes of Var se the polystylistic meldings of music and technology in Louis Gruenberg's radio operas and film scores the electronic music of Otto Luening and the experimentalism of Philip Jarnach Equal parts critical biography and interpretive analysis Knyt's work compels a reconsideration of Busoni's legacy and puts forth the notion of a Busoni School as one that shaped the trajectory of twentieth century music Erinn Knyt's Ferruccio Busoni and His Legacy is a most welcome addition to the literature on Busoni as a fine example of research based on primary sources Bach Greene's Biographical Encyclopedia of Composers David Mason Greene, 1985 The

Politicized Concert Mass (1967-2007) Stephanie Rocke, 2022-07-29 Since the transformative 1960s concert masses have incorporated a range of political and religious views that mirror their socio cultural context Those of the long 1960s c1958 1975 reflect non conformism and social activism those of the 1980s environmentalism those of the 1990s universalism and those of the 2000s cultural pluralism Despite utilizing a format with its roots in the Roman Catholic liturgy many of these politicized concert masses also reflect the increasing religious diversification of Western societies By introducing non Catholic and often non Christian beliefs into masses that also remain respectful of Christian tradition composers in the later twentieth century have employed the genre to promote a conciliatory way of being that promotes the value of heterogeneity and reinforces the need to protect the diversity of music species and spiritualities that enrich life. In combining the political with the religious, the case studies presented pose challenges for both supporters and detractors of the secularization paradigm. Overarchingly, they demonstrate that any binary division that separates life into either the religious or the secular and promotes one over the other denies the complexity of lived experience and constitutes a diminution of what it is to be human.

The Middle Ages in the Modern World Bettina Bildhauer, Chris Jones, 2017-09-28. This book provides many fresh perspectives on why and how the Middle Ages continue to matter so much in the 21st century. It is therefore as much about recent cultural and political history as it is about medieval history and medieval literature. The introduction provides a long overview of medievalism from the 14th to the 21st centuries.

Zwischen unendlichem Wohllaut und infernalischem Chaos Bettina Winkler, 1998.

Peter Maxwell Davies Studies Kenneth Gloag, Nicholas Jones, 2009-08-27. 2009 marked the 75th birthday of Sir Peter Maxwell Davies, an occasion that presented an opportunity for reflection upon and appreciation of a period of compositional achievement that extends from the 1950s to the present. This book forms part of that reflection through a statement of the current condition of research on Maxwell Davies's music. Detailed analytical discussions of individual works such as the opera Taverner and the First Symphony coexist with broader issues and perspectives including Davies's own writings about music, his engagement with sonata form, the compositional source problems of text and the situating of this music within and in relation to modern times. The book describes selected works from all periods of Davies's rich and diverse career, resulting in a portrait of the music that while it may be incomplete, reveals the essence of this remarkable composer and his music.

Michael Tippett Oliver Soden, 2019-04-18. A delight to read Philip Pullman. Essential reading, a genuine landmark publication. Tom Service. A BBC Radio 4 Book of the Week. The music of the British composer Michael Tippett, including the oratorio A Child of Our Time, five operas and four symphonies, is among the most visionary of the twentieth century. But little has been written about his extraordinary life. In this long-awaited first biography, Oliver Soden weaves a century-spanning narrative of epic scope and penetrating insight. His achievement is to have enriched our understanding not only of Tippett but of the twentieth century. Figures such as T. S. Eliot, E. M. Forster, Barbara Hepworth and W. H. Auden jostle in the cast list. An Edwardian world of gaslight and empire cedes to turmoil and warfare, and his operas game-changing attitudes to gay and civil rights against a backdrop of the Cold War and the Space Race The result is a landmark in the study of twentieth century culture simultaneously an astonishing feat of scholarship and a story as enthralling as in any great novel The New Grove Dictionary of Music and Musicians: ODa`n tranh to Egu-eps Stanley Sadie,2001 International Dictionary of Opera: A-K C. Steven LaRue,1993 BBC Music Magazine ,2006 British Music Now Lewis Foreman,1975 The last decade and a half has seen the emergence of more composers of real and demonstrable talent in Britain than almost any previous period Their work is reaching an increasingly wide and keen audience in concert hall and opera house through national and local radio festivals amateur and professional and even children s performing groups In this timely book a team of experts provides a much needed survey and assessment of these new composers all of them under fifty at the time of writing The sheer abundance and variety of music composed in Britain in the 1960s and 70s is astonishing The operas and theatre pieces of Nicholas Maw Gordon Crosse and Alexander Goehr the orchestral and chamber music of Thea Musgrave Hugh Wood and Alun Hoddinott the experimentalism in a number of different forms of Peter Maxwell Davies Harrison Birtwistle Roger Smalley and John Tavener the more traditional idiom of John McCabe William Mathias and Anthony Milner Richard Rodney Bennett s film scores and David Bedford s rapprochement with pop forms the electronic wizardry of Tristram Cary here is the work of a generation of composers more than one of international stature who have responded to the impact of Serialism and of a previous generation that includes Britten and Messiaen and succeeded in expressing themselves in truly personal styles A chapter is devoted to each major composer and others are covered at lesser length in further chapters and a ready reference section The style and development of each is analysed and his oeuvre outlined There is an extensive and up to date bibliography and discography Dust jacket The School Musician Director and Teacher ,1985 Music and Musicians ,1987 Peter Maxwell Davies ,1969 Music Research Forum ,1986
