Postcards From The Beach:

Postcards from the Beach William F. Halligan, 1991 Beach Postcards Catherine Halversen, Nicole Parizeau, 2007

Exposing the Wilderness Robert Bogdan, 1999-10-01 Robert Bogdan combines a richly descriptive text with striking illustrations to create vivid biographical sketches of these pioneer photographers who worked their individual styles to illuminate six different regions of the Adirondack Mountains. The book also provides insight into the popular culture of the times mainly through postcards but it also takes an in depth look at the families and work lives of these artisans as they plied their trade in the popular venue of commercial postcards. Aside from the Adirondack locals and a few postcard connoisseurs the gifted folk artists and craftspeople profiled here were virtually unknown until now. Bogdan has collected nearly 250 illustrations including postcards and photographs depicting Adirondack life of the time. Many of these images have never before been published.

Social Media and Oil in Southern California Jason L. Jarvis, 2023-05-22 Social Media and Oil in Southern California Greenwashing Los Angeles interrogates the politics of invisibility that permeates Southern California's oil industry. Most residents are completely unaware that hospitals, schools, businesses, and homes are built among the thousands of active wells in Los Angeles County. Since the early 1900s the oil industry used social media to greenwash itself and obscure the material consequences of drilling and refining. From postcards to YouTube, social media has been a key tool in the arsenal of the fossil fuel industry. Jason L. Jarvis argues that oil, not Hollywood, is the key industry that drives the California dream. Scholars of communication, environmental studies, and rhetoric will find this book of particular interest.

HEAT Khairani Barokka, Ng Yi-Sheng, 2016-03-30 HEAT is part of a threesome of Southeast Asian urban anthologies. The other two are called FLESH and TRASH. You'll find plenty of heat in this collection of stories gathered from six different Southeast Asian nations: Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, the Philippines, and Singapore. As part of our selection process, we've tried to select the more unexpected, thoughtful, and risk-taking from the available pool of writing, forging from them a compendium of twisted, tender visions of our region. Nyitray, 2019 For centuries Long Island's beaches have provided sustenance, relaxation, and inspiration. The coastline is renowned for its sandy Atlantic Ocean surf beaches, calm bayfront beaches, and rugged north shore Long Island Sound beaches. First inhabited by Native Americans, the area was called Sewanhacky Isle of Shells in reverence to the offerings received where the water met the land. Drawing from the archives of local libraries, historical societies, museums, and private collections, Long Island Beaches presents a curated selection of vintage postcards illustrating the diversity of Nassau and Suffolk Counties' beautiful shores. Rare photographs and maps accompany the postcards to provide historical context. Through extensive research, author Kristen J.

Nyitray documents a facet of Long Island's social and cultural history and the lure of its picturesque beaches At the Beach Roland Harvey, 2006-10-01 Hi Everyone Crabby Spit is COOL I've been crabspotting riding my bike surfing and swimming and looking at stars With a bit of luck I'll be having fish and chips for dinner The only problem is my things keep disappearing Can you help me find them Roland Harvey It's summer and time to head to Crabby Spit Don't forget to write says Grandma The postcards come thick and fast detailing all the timeless pleasures of playing on the beach paddling surfing finding treasures dancing to the glow of a bonfire But look out for the clever family dog who collects all the belongings of the absent minded artist Short listed for the 2005 CBCA Awards this popular picture book is now available in paperback
