Agricultural Policies in Emerging and Transition Economies 2000 OECD,2000-07-24 This eighth edition of Agricultural Policies in Emerging and Transition economies presents the latest available data on agricultural policies and support in emerging and transition economies and analyzes interactions between OECD member countries policies and those of emerging transition economies Global Economic Prospects and the Developing Countries ,2002 This edition of the annual publication considers the need to reshape the global architecture of world trade in order to help strengthen the economies of developing countries and reduce world poverty The report focuses on four policy areas the establishment of a development round of WTO negotiations to reduce trade barriers global co operation to expand trade outside the WTO the adoption of pro trade development policies by high income countries and enacting trade reforms in developing countries. The findings of the report suggest that developing countries could significantly increase their incomes if all countries progressively implement the proposed trade reforms. This would result in a world with a much higher standard of living an estimated 300 million people lifted out of poverty by 2015 and a significant increase in the number of children living beyond their fifth birthday throughout the developing world OECD Annual Report 2000 OECD,2000-06-09 The report highlights the major events of the Organisation in 1999 provides a clear picture of its achievements and looks forward to the year in progress Special features on important aspects of OECD s work are interspersed throughout the report The Economics of European Agriculture Bernadette Andreosso-O'Callaghan,2003-09-08 The Economics of European Agriculture explains the demand and supply characteristics of agricultural markets as well as government intervention in agriculture with an emphasis on the Common Agricultural Policy CAP Bernadette Andreosso O Callaghan also analyses the fifth enlargement and its implications for agriculture in Europe technology and innovation and agricultural trade liberalization

Post-Uruguay Round Market Access Barriers for Industrial Products Marc Bacchetta, Bijit Bora, United Nations Conference on Trade and Development, 2001 Market access issues remain one of the most important elements on the agenda of the multilateral trade system This report highlights a number of key issues concerning the level of border protection remaining after the Uruguay Round and emphasises the need to improve both the quality and availability of protection data The report uses both applied and bound rates and examines the structure of protection from the perspective of both the importer and exporter It considers the effect of preferential agreements on the tariff structure and the barriers to access by the least developed countries into the markets of developed countries. The overall conclusion of the report is that significant levels of protection still need to be addressed Post-Uruguay Round Tariff Regimes Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 1999 Tariff Rate Quotas and Their Administration Christina Mönnich, 2004 Tariff Rate Quotas are an important though controversial instrument of international agricultural trade policy They are meant to provide market access but can be designed to be as restrictive as important quotas In the political and academic discussion quota administration is blamed to cause extra inefficiencies However little research exists on how different methods of quota administration compare to each other This question is approached by an econometric model for censored panel data which was applied to the EU s tariff rate quotas Furthermore this work analyses how tariff rate quotas are governed by WTO rules how they are applied in practice by the EU and US and how they could be reformed in the ongoing agricultural trade negotiations The Annual Report of the OECD Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 2000
