The Language of Law and Food Salvatore Mancuso,2021-04-27 This book reconsiders the use of food metaphors and the relationship between law and food in an interdisciplinary perspective to examine how food related topics can be used to describe or identify rules norms or prescriptions of all kinds The links between law and food are as old as the concept of law Many authors have been using such links in creative ways to express specific features of law This is because the language of food and cooking offers legal thinkers and teachers mouth watering metaphors comparing rules to recipes and their combination to culinary processes This collection focuses on this relationship between law and food and takes us far beyond their mere interaction to explore different ways of using these two apparently so diverse elements to describe different phenomena of the legal reality The authors use the link between food and law to describe different aspects of the legal landscape in different areas and jurisdictions Bringing together metaphors and indirect correlations between law and food the book explores different models of approaching legal issues and considering different legal challenges from a completely new perspective in line with the multidisciplinary approach that leads comparative legal studies today and to a certain extent revisiting and enriching it With contributions in English and French the book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of law and food law and language and comparative legal studies

Animal welfare is attracting increasing interest worldwide especially in developed countries where the knowledge and resources are available to at least potentially provide better management systems for farm animals as well as companion zoo and laboratory animals The key requirements for adequate food water a suitable environment appropriate companionship and good health are important for animals kept for all of these purposes There has been increased attention given to farm animal welfare in many countries in recent years This derives largely from the fact that the relentless pursuit of financial reward and efficiency to satisfy market demands has led to the development of intensive animal production systems that challenge the conscience of many consumers in those countries In developing countries human survival is still a daily uncertainty so that provision for animal welfare has to be balanced against human needs Animal welfare is usually a priority only if it supports the output of the animal be it food work clothing sport or companionship In principle the welfare needs of both humans and animals can be provided for in both developing and developed countries if resources are properly husbanded In reality however the inequitable division of the world's riches creates physical and psychological poverty for humans and animals alike in many parts of the world Farm Animal Welfare Programme Commission of the European Communities.
