Malik,2004 Second volume of Deutscher prize winning trilogy on the future of IR tracing the defining characteristics of foreign encounters over time Whose Islam? Megan Brankley Abbas,2021-06-08 In this incisive new book Megan Brankley Abbas argues that the Western university has emerged as a significant space for producing Islamic knowledge and Muslim religious authority For generations Indonesia s foremost Muslim leaders received their educations in Middle Eastern madrasas or the archipelago s own Islamic schools Starting in the mid twentieth century however growing numbers traveled to the West to study Islam before returning home to assume positions of political and religious influence Whose Islam examines the far reaching repercussions of this change for major Muslim communities as well as for Islamic studies as an academic discipline As Abbas details this entanglement between Western academia and Indonesian Islam has not only forged powerful new transnational networks but also disrupted prevailing modes of authority in both spheres For Muslim intellectuals studying Islam in Western universities provides opportunities to experiment with academic disciplines and to reimagine the faith but it also raises troubling questions about whether and how to protect the Islamic tradition from Western encroachment For Western academics these connections raise pressing ethical questions about their own roles in the global politics of development and Islamic religious reform Drawing on extensive archival research from around the globe Whose Islam provides a unique perspective on the perennial
