Pouring Liberal Wine Into Conservative Bottles Strategy And Policies:

Pouring Liberal Wine Into Conservative Bottles Laurence S. Seidman, 2006-01-09 Liberals and conservatives will never agree on all things In his new book Laurence Seidman does not pretend otherwise Instead Seidman identifies several key issues on which policy agreement might be possible Using evidence of successful government actions such as the earned income tax credit EITC which was conceived as a work bonus by conservatives and was sufficiently funded by liberals Pouring Liberal Wine into Conservative Bottles is a critical and hopeful examination of public policy The Darwin Economy Robert H. Frank, 2012-09-16 What Charles Darwin can teach us about building a fairer society Who was the greater economist Adam Smith or Charles Darwin The question seems absurd Darwin after all was a naturalist not an economist But Robert Frank New York Times economics columnist and best selling author of The Economic Naturalist predicts that within the next century Darwin will unseat Smith as the intellectual founder of economics The reason Frank argues is that Darwin's understanding of competition describes economic reality far more accurately than Smith's And the consequences of this fact are profound Indeed the failure to recognize that we live in Darwin's world rather than Smith's is putting us all at risk by preventing us from seeing that competition alone will not solve our problems Smith's theory of the invisible hand which says that competition channels self interest for the common good is probably the most widely cited argument today in favor of unbridled competition and against regulation taxation and even government itself But what if Smith's idea was almost an exception to the general rule of competition That's what Frank argues resting his case on Darwin's insight that individual and group interests often diverge sharply Far from creating a perfect world economic competition often leads to arms races encouraging behaviors that not only cause enormous harm to the group but also provide no lasting advantages for individuals since any gains tend to be relative and mutually offsetting The good news is that we have the ability to tame the Darwin economy The best solution is not to prohibit harmful behaviors but to tax them By doing so we could make the economic pie larger eliminate government debt and provide better public services all without requiring painful sacrifices from anyone That's a bold claim Frank concedes but it follows directly from logic and evidence that most people already accept In a new afterword Frank further explores how the themes of inequality and competition are driving today's public debate on how much government we need Journal of Economic Literature ,2006-06 Pouring Liberal Wine Into Conservative Bottles Laurence S. Seidman, 2006 Liberals and conservatives will never agree on all things In his new book Laurence Seidman does not pretend otherwise Instead as the central theme of the book Seidman identifies several key issues on which policy agreement might be possible The basic strategy is to take a conservative bottle a policy consistent with conservative values and pour liberal wine sufficient funding into it Using evidence of successful government actions such as the earned income tax credit EITC which was conceived as a work bonus by conservatives and was sufficiently funded by liberals Pouring Liberal Wine Into Conservative Bottles is a critical and hopeful examination of public policy In chapters focused on issues such as health insurance Social Security tax reform and the environment among others Seidman outlines possible areas of compromise Challenge Magazine ,2006 Proceedings ... Annual Conference on Taxation ... and Minutes of the Annual Meeting of the National Tax Association National Tax Association,2006 Proceedings ...
