Power and Innocence Rollo May, 1972 Thunder at Michigan and Thunder in the Heartland Bunyan

Bryant, 2009 This book is about a unique program that was created at the University of Michigan School of Natural Resources and Environment in 1972 the Environmental Advocacy Program now known as the Environmental Justice Program Its pedagogical creed differed significantly from traditional teaching within the University Those involved de emphasized the role of teacher as the locus of control and endeavored to serve more as facilitators of the learning process Authority dependent relations were discouraged The classroom was student centered to emphasize student participation and symmetrical relations between student and faculty thus fostering self affirmation and empowerment This education philosophy created an atmosphere that allowed students to take charge of their own learning It is hoped that by having a few graduates relate their educational and professional experiences in this volume we might influence some of our colleagues in academia to build similar programs Introduction and p 4 of cover Qualitative Research in the Study of Leadership

Karin Klenke, 2008-02-29 Discusses the use of qualitative research methods in leadership studies beginning with an examination of the paradigmatic assumptions underlying qualitative research This book presents various qualitative methods that can be placed on a continuum ranging from purely qualitative to highly quantitative Crime in Trinidad David

Vincent Trotman, 1986 Traditions, Tyranny, and Utopias Ashis Nandy, 1987 These essays present an outsider's view of Western norms of progress rationality and maturity and offer an alternate perspective on oppression in modern times Nandy stresses the importance of considering the world views held by non modern cultures in formulating a more humane and less technologically preoccupied vision of progress The Implications of Existential Psychology for the Black Experience

Oil and Conflict Nkem Emerald Osuigwe, 2014-09-18 The received account on African evangelical Christianity regarding social witness in a section of Western scholarship is that it is anti development and a political Such an account heavily draws from an instrumentalist and functionalist assessment of such Christianity without recourse to its emic perspective Using the case study method this book presents an ethnographic examination of this functionalist reading by investigating describing and analysing evangelical Christian theological and socio political consciousness within the context of oil and conflict in Nigeria's Niger Delta region Adopting approaches from practical theology congregational studies and anthropology of religion the author challenges such a reading using data gathered from three congregations in the region His discourse revolves around answers to the following four critical questions What are the underlying theological issues and beliefs of Nigerian evangelical Christians within the context of oil and conflict What is their prevalent praxis within the context of Nigeria's political economy of oil and conflict How accurate is the received account that African evangelical and fundamentalist Christianity lacks social responsibility and is a political and anti development What would a contextual political theology for Nigeria's political economy of oil look like The theological issues are varied and the prevalent praxis nuanced which then serves as a veritable critique of the claim that African evangelical Christianity lacks social responsibility due to its preoccupation with soul winning Whereas such Christianity places much emphasis on the winning of souls as an expression of its spirituality it is neither oblivious nor indifferent to its socio political milieu Rather it sees such spirituality as a form of political praxis Some of the trajectories of the spirituality include a theology of conversion a theology of prayer and an ethics of crude oil with Total Freedom as the nomenclature for the specific theological perspective offered for Nigeria's political economy of oil While locating this theological perspective within the taxonomy of Liberation Theology the affinity and dissonance between the two are identified

The Wacousta Syndrome Gaile McGregor, 1985 The Intimate Enemy Ashis Nandy, 1988 This book looks at colonialism in its social political and psychological context The author suggests that the fundamental character of colonialism is not so much economic or technological domination but cultural subservience of the indigenous people and the cultural arrogance of the rulers Nandy bases his thesis largely on a study of Gandhi and Kipling in colonial India The book is in two parts The Psychology of Colonialism Sex Age and Ideology and part two The Uncolonized Mind A Post colonial View of India and the West

A Very Popular Exile Ashis Nandy, 2007 This is a collection of three significant works of Ashis Nandy The Tao of Cricket An Ambiguous Journey to the City and Traditions Tyranny and Utopias In The Tao of Cricket Nandy shows how a game once identified with the British Empire and a preserve of the British gentry is now more South Asian than English He examines the sneaking entry of the modern urban industrial ethic and mass culture into a game that used to thrive on its ability to be a living critique of modern life Through the story of Indian cricket he attempts a systematic analysis of world views ideologies cultural exchanges and political choices An Ambiguous Journey to the City concerned with the apparently territorial journey between the village and the city captures some of the core fantasies and anxieties of Indian civilization over the past century Nandy argues that the decline of the village from the creative imagination of Indians in recent decades has altered the meaning of this journey drastically and that the true potentialities of Indian cosmopolitanism cannot be realized without renegotiating the myth of the village Traditions Tyranny and Utopias is a collection of essays on the modern West and its cultural and psychological impact on the East Nandy analyses brilliantly and insightfully aspects of East West relationship from Western visions which have displaced all other ideals of a good society to western histories that have displaced all other pasts of the East Yet the apparently defeated have through the likes Gandhi and Senghor tried to subvert the West's construction of the rest and to ensure cultural survival and an open ended future This volume is essential reading for social scientists policymakers activists and anyone interested in the way Indian politics and culture are now enmeshed with a global struggle to protect human dignity and democratic values This is the third omnibus edition of Ashis Nandy's writings the first two being Exiled at Home and Return from Exile Jacket
