Schools Against Children The Case For Community Control:

Schools Against Children Annette T. Rubinstein, Research in Education, 1970 Becoming the System Nelson Flores, 2024 Bilingual education is usually framed as a tool of antiracism In Becoming the System author Nelson Flores challenges that framework by examining the ways that institutionalizing bilingual education in the post Civil Rights Era in the United States has served to maintain rather than challenge racial hierarchies He adopts a methodology that he terms raciolinguistic genealogy as a point of entry for arguing that the institutionalization of bilingual education was part of a broader reconfiguration of race in the postcolonial era This reconfiguration located the root of racial inequities within a psychologically damaged racialized subject who after having experienced multiple generations of racial oppression had either from a liberal perspective developed a culture of poverty or a radical perspective developed colonized mindset that prevented racial progress After examining the ways that this psychologically damaged racialized subject provided the ideological foundation for the Bilingual Education Act BEA Flores then examines how institutionalizing the BEA produced a cadre of Latinx professionals who were afforded contingent proximity to whiteness in exchange for their acceptance of deficit framings of Latinx communities He goes on to examine the ways that this institutionalization helped pave the way for neoliberal educational reforms that serve to maintain the racial status quo This has culminated in the exponential growth of dual language education as a commodity for affluent monolingual white families even as the bilingualism of Latinx communities continue to be pathologized and policed Flores concludes by implicating himself as a Latinx professional working in bilingual education in this political incorporation and posits the present volume as resistance to the commodification and weaponization of Latinx bilingualism

The Containment Michelle Adams, 2025-01-14 Splendid Adams s book explores class as well as race with a richness and sophistication that recall J Anthony Lukas s 1985 masterpiece Common Ground Jeffrey Toobin The New York Times Book Review Passionate and well researched Louis Menand The New Yorker The epic story of Detroit s struggle to integrate schools in its suburbs and the defeat of desegregation in the North In 1974 the Supreme Court issued a momentous decision In the case of Milliken v Bradley the justices brought a halt to school desegregation across the North and to the civil rights movement s struggle for a truly equal education for all How did this come about and why In The Containment the esteemed legal scholar Michelle Adams tells the epic story of the struggle to integrate Detroit schools and what happened when it collided with Nixon appointed justices committed to a judicial counterrevolution Adams chronicles the devoted activists who tried to uplift Detroit s students amid the upheavals of riots Black power and white flight and how their efforts led to federal judge Stephen Roth s landmark order to achieve racial balance by tearing down the walls separating the city and its suburbs The metropolitan remedy could have remade the landscape of racial justice Instead the Supreme Court ruled that the suburbs could not be a part of the effort to integrate and thus upheld the inequalities that remain in place today Adams tells this story via compelling portraits of a city under stress and of key figures including Detroit's first Black mayor Coleman Young and Justices Marshall Rehnquist and Powell. The result is a legal and historical drama that exposes the roots of today's backlash against affirmative action and other efforts to fulfill the country's promise. Resources in Education, 1970 Future Challenges in Teacher Collective Bargaining Charles W. Cheng, 1976 Discusses developments and issues in collective bargaining in public education between 1961 and 1976 such as the widening of bargainable subjects, community control, and the role of the union staff. School Busing United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee No. 5, 1972 Library Catalog of the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.). Library, 1973 Race, Schools, & Hope Lisa M. Stulberg, 2008 How can school choice be a form of both giving up on public education and a form of hope and faith in American schooling? This book helps us to make sense of why and how African Americans participate in and lead school choice reforms. The author argues that regardless of the success or failure of these reforms, they represent an important political phenomenon in American schooling and in African American history and politics. The first section of the book focuses on African American school choice in the post-Brown period, examining how these reforms became a response to desegregation politics and policies. The second section focuses on the author's experience as a co-founder of a charter school in Oakland, California, at a time when Oakland's public schools were found to be severely under-serving African American students. Philosophy of Education Philosophy of Education Society (U.S.). Meeting, 1973 The Iron Fist and the Velvet Glove Center for Research on Criminal Justice (Berkeley, Calif.), 1977 This book presents a concept of the role of police in society as basically repressive. The authors give a historical account of the rise of police from early slave patrols to the present to bolster their position that the police are a repressive force. Instances of police brutality and police control of demonstrators are examined. Technological advances and equipment to aid police departments are pointed to as examples in the police arsenal of repression. Police political surveillance is described, and private security police come under fire also for protecting corporate property and investments. Library Catalog of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.). Library, 1980 Educational Foundations, 1994 Social Policy, 1970 Seminar, 1972 Minority Education and Caste John U. Ogbu, 1978 Bulletin of the California Library Association, 1974 Includes Handbook and proceedings of the annual meeting of the California Library Association Choice and the Use of Market Forces in Schooling Gary Miron, 1993 Community Planning Review, 1972 The Borderlands Journal, 1980
