Meaning by Making Connections Kathy L. Schuh, 2016-10-20 This book documents those first links that students make between content they learn in their classrooms and their prior experiences Through six late elementary school case studies these knowledge construction links are brought to life The links of the students are often rich in describing who these individuals are where they are in their learning process and what is meaningful to them Many times these links point to what has been learned both in and out of school and the contexts when and where that learning took place The mind as rhizome metaphor was used to guide the development and interpretation of the studies while the lens of Peircian semiotics provides an interpretation for these initial links The resulting grounded theory is presented through a rich and extensive presentation of excerpts from classroom observations student interviews and a student writing activity and describes the varying types of student links how the links were prompted the relationships between what the students were learning and what they already knew and specific types of in school links The narrative includes how these links were supported or inhibited in the classroom drawing on the roles of the teachers in the classrooms and what constituted authority sources of information in those classrooms Before exploring the students linking as a process of ongoing semiosis and how this process is part of a dynamic system a study of the relationship between student knowledge links and achievement is shared This rich narrative will be of interest to scholars and practitioners alike and includes an extensive appendix documenting the research methods

Jones, 2010 Many teachers of students with mild disabilities experience difficulty writing IEPs and they lack a foundation in the regular education curriculum of academic skills and sequences associated with each grade level This book was designed to provide this foundation Presented in the form of scope and sequence charts that can be used as objectives for the State Frameworks goals and benchmarks this resource assists in preparing IEPs including the new process of identification of children with disabilities through their responses to intervention RTI An additional focus is on the impact of federal laws IDEA and NCLB on the curriculum and assessment in schools today The book has been reorganized into ten chapters including historical perspectives early childhood special education curricula oral expression curricula reading and listening curricula written expression curricula mathematics curricula educational technology curricula K 12 social and self competence curricula science curricula and evaluation reports case studies Appendix The scope and sequence charts were modified to include current national education standards and benchmarks and the skills in each of the academic areas that require annual state assessment These charts will assist teachers in modifying the general education curriculum for students with mild disabilities and to write complete Individual Education Programs using age appropriate and developmentally appropriate teaching and assessment materials Chapter summaries included for review purposes also serve as selective and motivational reading With special education teachers in short supply and the demands on their time so great this book will provide a valuable resource for cutting the clutter and moving to the heart of the teaching process determining what skills students need to move effectively to the next level
