International Journal of Musicology, 2002 Winning the Race John McWhorter, 2006-12-28 In his first major book on the state of black America since the New York Times bestseller Losing the Race John McWhorter argues that a renewed commitment to achievement and integration is the only cure for the crisis in the African American community Winning the Race examines the roots of the serious problems facing black Americans today poverty drugs and high incarceration rates and contends that none of the commonly accepted reasons can explain the decline of black communities since the end of segregation in the 1960s Instead McWhorter posits that a sense of victimhood and alienation that came to the fore during the civil rights era has persisted to the present day in black culture even though most blacks today have never experienced the racism of the segregation era McWhorter traces the effects of this disempowering conception of black identity from the validation of living permanently on welfare to gansta rap's glorification of irresponsibility and violence as a means of protest He discusses particularly specious claims of racism attacks the destructive posturing of black leaders and the hip hop academics and laments that a successful black person must be faced with charges of acting white While acknowledging that racism still exists in America today McWhorter argues that both blacks and whites must move past blaming racism for every challenge blacks face and outlines the steps necessary for improving the future of black America Tomorrow's Global Community Jim Mann, 1998 Media marketing expert Jim Mann foresees the end of top heavy centralized bureaucracies in favor of global communities based upon the virtues of the family such as amiable decision making a balance of benefits and responsibilities concern about the welfare of all its members and sharing ideas freely The author predicts that the ever increasing volume and accessibility of information will eventually bring down some of the Western world's most entrenched paradigms in society culture and politics Tomorrow's global community will consist of a wide array of private partnerships eventually replacing the nation state The corporate and business shell will begin to atrophy as a new gift economy replaces it promising a free flow of information and knowledge rather than the adherence to a bottom line mentality centered about intellectual property rights and profit motives This optimistic view of the future is based upon events now occurring It may take many years for the new global community finally to emerge yet as more and more information creates uncertainty confusion and mistrust in central authority the sooner partnership networks will replace existing institutions
