pedagogy into new and urgent directions BOOK JACKET Political Socialisation, Participation, and Education Heinz Sünker, Russell Francis Farnen, 2003 Given the catastrophic history of the short 20th century Hobsbawm the crucial question facing the new millennium all over the world is that of the future social as well as political development At the centre of our engagement with this question should lie reflections on participatory forms of democratisation in as many societies around the globe as possible so as to make globalisation more than simply an economic theme Such reflections as the contributions in this book show from this perspective would also examine the possible ways in which relations might be constituted within political socialisation participation and education These concepts are in turn to be explored in the substantive discussions of democracy and democratisation in relation to individuals as well as political systems If educational policy is social policy if a democratic society demands citizens who are educated and thus capable of political action the themes Political Education and Political Socialisation need to be addressed anew and this is equally important for a rethinking of the future of the political more generally The contributions to the book contribute to a challenging debate YOU Wouldn't Understand Sarah Pearce, 2005 You Wouldn't Understand looks at ethnic diversity in schools through the eyes of teachers rather than pupils It tells the story of one white teacher's developing understanding of how her own racial and ethnic background influenced the way she regarded and taught the mainly South Asian Muslim children in her classes She began with a belief that narrowness in the curriculum was her students problem but she came to see the bigger picture The book charts her gradual realization that many of the problems come from her own lack of understanding of race racism and her own racial identity The book explores the idea of whiteness as not a biological but a social construction and one which influences white people's ways of seeing the world in often unnoticed ways The author relates whiteness to aspects of her own behaviour which she recorded in a diary over five years The book also considers the children's struggles to construct and understand their own emerging identities in this environment and the views of several other white teachers some of whom shared the author's confusion and doubts and others who were more confident about teaching in culturally diverse classrooms This searching analysis of the innards of whiteness and the way it affects how white teachers approach pupils who are not white is illuminating and important It should be required reading for all teacher trainers and all white trainee teachers as well as for white managers and teachers working in multi ethnic schools The Labour Debate Ana C. Dinerstein, Mike Neary, 2002 Through a radical reinterpretation of Marx's social theory the contributors to this unique book revitalize the concept and reality of labour as the fundamental constitutive principle of the social world This refocus is inspired by the real changes in the forms of identity organization and struggle taking place in response to the global restructuring of capitalist work
