Return to Reflexivity Pierre Bourdieu, 2024-10-15 This slim volume contains four little known texts by Pierre Bourdieu on the question of reflexivity which was a key theme in his work For Bourdieu reflexivity was not an exercise in introspection but rather a way of applying the tools of sociology to itself The aim is to make explicit and control the effects of the presuppositions standpoints and dispositions that the researcher brings to the conduct of social science research Bourdieu advocates an attitude of epistemological vigilance that helps to uncover the invisible effects of the social determinants that weigh on the researcher effects that are difficult to perceive by the mere desire to be lucid Questioning the social position and presuppositions of the researcher at every opportunity loosens the hold of scholastic and other biases on the outcome of research By clarifying and illustrating the principles of reflexivity the four texts in this volume lay the groundwork for the kind of reflexive social science that Bourdieu practised and advocated throughout his career

A Reflexive Foundation for Human Science Chris Mortimer, 2011-05-26 We cannot observe us being us in the external world We can only be us Physicalism suspended a reflexive foundation for human science is a reproducible reconstruction of what we observe reflexively of what we experience ourselves to be when we experience ourselves occurring The reflexive reconstruction generates the concept of unitary mechanism and the minimal and encompassing definitions of human being It generates the clarified awareness of the significance in science of the concept of value and of the way the difference grounds make works In self application the reflexive reconstruction is a basis for being scientifically It is a useful and stabilizing ground and therapy

□□□□□, 2009 Situated Cognition Research Mark-Oliver Casper, Giuseppe Flavio Artese, 2023-09-26 This volume assembles supporters and critics of situated cognition research to evaluate the intricacies prerequisites possibilities and scope of a 4E methodology The contributions are divided into three categories The first category entails papers dealing with a 4E methodology from the perspective of epistemology and philosophy of science It discusses whether to support explanatory pluralism or explanatory unification and focuses on possible compromises between ecological psychology and enactivism The second category addresses ontological questions regarding the synchronic and diachronic constitution of cognitive phenomena the localization of cognitive processes and the theoretical issue of mutual manipulability The third category analyzes how the theoretical and practical commitments of 4E approaches lead to empirically supported investigations of different phenomena such as research on affordances and chronic pain The book renews attention to the possible adverse consequences coming along with methodical fragmentation as found among 4E positions It provides an overdue first step towards a systematic and positive answer to methodological concerns in situated cognition research Without this and further steps in the future the growth of 4E's significance for the scientific study of the mind might stall or even decrease With such steps situated cognition research could realize its frequently highlighted but so far not comprehensively accessed potential to change radically the modalities of how cognitive phenomena are studied This volume is of interest to scholars of the philosophy of mind

Knowledge and Reflexivity Steve Woolgar, 1988

Scholars working in the area broadly described as social studies of science have convincingly demonstrated over the past decade that natural scientific knowledge is a product of social cultural historical and political processes The eight contributors to this volume newly available in paper argue that it is high time that social science itself is seen as actively generated by those same forces The tool that they use to analyze the social scientific text is that of reflexivity at its simplest a term which connotes self reflection and self referral Knowledge and Reflexivity examines the wide ranging implications of reflexivity for ethnography discourse analysis textual analysis medical sociology and the sociology of science A number of contributors such as Trevor Pinch and Bruno Latour are critical of the use of reflexivity Each chapter is followed by a reflexion from another contributor to give an unusual format to the book The contributors are concerned to develop a practice in which the interrogation of the methods proceeds simultaneously with and as an integral part of the investigation of the object Knowledge and Reflexivity brings debates within the social studies of science to a new frontier and will be stimulating reading for all researchers within the social sciences

Theories of Science in Society Susan E. Cozzens, 1990 Sociologists of science have over the past three decades or so learned a great deal about the social organization of scientific communities and about the social construction of scientific knowledge But progress has been relatively modest toward understanding the reciprocal relationships between science and its social political economic organizational and cultural settings How should we think about the place of science in modern societies The essays in this volume present new approaches to this question

Reflexive Ethnographic Science Robert Aunger, 2004 Aunger proposes a solution to a fundamental debate in contemporary ethnography the source of ethnographic authority He advocates the method of reflexive analysis as a way of making ethnography a more scientific endeavor Aunger challenges standards of ethnographic practice in data collection analysis and presentation This book is a valuable reference for researchers in anthropology and other social sciences who employ interviewing and participant observation methods ethnographic method and theory Reflexivity and Revolution in the New Novel Cecile Lindsay, 1990 The eight novel in Claude Ollier's fictional cycle Le Jeu d'enfant Child's play game are linked by a complex pattern of recurring characters structures situations and passages that form an investigation into the nature and functioning of fiction itself The principal thread binding the works is a male protagonist who in various guises journeys through alien threatening environments Simultaneously Ollier leads his reader into an exploration of the nature of alien texts that disrupt and undermine the traditional forms and procedures of the novel in an effort to create a revolutionary way of writing and reading fiction
