Science And The Trinity The Christian Encounter With Reality:

Science and the Trinity J. C. Polkinghorne, Professor of Mathematical Physics John Polkinghorne, F.R.S., K.B.E., 2004-01-01 A scientist theologian approaches the dialogue between science and religion from a little explored perspective in which theology shapes the argument and sets the agenda for questions to be considered God and the Scientist Fraser Watts, 2016-04-22 This book presents a celebration survey and critique of the theological work of arguably the most important and most widely read contributor to the modern dialogue between science and theology John Polkinghorne Including a major survey by Polkinghorne himself of his life's work in theology this book draws together contributors from among the most important voices in the science theology dialogue today to focus on key aspects of Polkinghorne's work with Polkinghorne providing responses Anybody exploring contemporary aspects of the science religion debate will find this book invaluable The Idea of a Christian College Todd C. Ream, Perry L. Glanzer, 2013-10-28 In 1975 Arthur F Holmes published The Idea of a Christian College At the time he could not have imagined his book would gather such a large following This work's thoughtful yet accessible style made it a long standing choice for reading lists on Christian college and university campuses across the country and around the world Countless numbers of first year students have read and discussed his book as part of their introduction to the Christian college experience However enough has changed since 1975 in both the Church and Academy to now merit a full scale reexamination In this book Todd C Ream and Perry L Glanzer account for changes in how people view the Church and themselves as human agents and propose a vision for the Christian college in light of the fact that so many Christian colleges now look and act more like research universities Including topics such as the co curricular common worship and diversity Ream and Glanzer craft a vision that strives to see into the future by drawing on the riches of the past First year students as well as new faculty members and administrators will benefit from the insights in this book in ways previous generations benefitted from Arthur Holmes's efforts A Physicist Examines Hope in the Resurrection John F. Wilson, 2016-12-22 John Polkinghorne ordained member of the Royal Society past President of Queen's College Cambridge Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire 2002 Templeton Prize winner theoretical physicist and theologian writes in breathless style to unfold core Christian doctrine in dialogue with science His work deftly addresses how one would interpret and commend Christian faith in the contemporary world as he elucidates the key topics in the dialogue of religion with science Polkinghorne's work addresses the hope Christians have present and future in the faithfulness of a loving God who stands alongside them today and for all eternity Eschatological hope enables and empowers Christian life and emerges in God's resurrection of Jesus from the horrific crucifixion Polkinghorne ably supports his thesis with a strong argument for the resurrection built on the kenotic acts of God His thesis sees Christian eschatology as the advent of hope the heart of faith In Christian eschatology as argued by Polkinhorne and supported in the work of Jurgen Moltmann and Nicholas T Wright Christ's presence is not some far off event but present reality Christian Scholar's

Ream,Perry Lynn Glanzer,2007-09-17 In the twenty first century religious faith has reemerged from the margins of modernism and moved back to the center of contemporary scholarly conversations When Jacques Derrida died Stanley Fish recently wrote I was called by a reporter who wanted to know what would succeed high theory and the triumvirate of race gender and class as the center of intellectual energy in the academy I answered like a shot religion A group of evaluators of the Lilly Endowment s Initiative on Religion and Higher Education recently agreed There is today more discussion about the role of religion in the academy than at any time in the past 40 years and more commitment to the project of Christian higher education than there was just ten years ago In recognition of these developments this particular monograph offers an overview of the various ways conversations about religion and religiously informed scholarship are increasing in the academy Although a growing number of faith traditions are finding their place in this conversation the Christian tradition in its various forms is still the dominant voice This monograph addresses the history of secularization in American higher education and scholarship the historical and resistance by dominant religious traditions to that secularization the contemporary ways that individual scholars networks and institutions approach the question of religious faith and scholarship the concerns such a question raises for academic freedom and the relationship between religious faith and scholarship First Things ,2005
