Science Friction Lubertus Berrens, 1995-01-01 That science is not always an entirely serious matter or at least may appear on first or second glance not to be is demonstrated by this compilation of the most witty and thought provoking titles from the biomedical literature Professor Berrens perusal of article titles in biomedical databases has brought to light numerous examples of double entendres intentional or unintentional puns and apparently absent minded or narrow minded goofs that simply make you grin or groan His friend and collaborator Walther Eijkelestam then brought his well sharpened pencil to bear and has provided the titles with a suitably pointed visual commentary in the form of expressive and cleanly executed cartoons This entertaining book will provide a little light relief for all those working in science as well as reminding them to perhaps think twice before deciding on a title for their latest serious work Annals ,1996 From Genetics to Quality of Life Pascal Chanez, 1996 Bronchial asthma is much more a syndrome than a true disease as a science asthmology covers a large area from Genetics to Quality of life Asthma management is changing new drugs are available and have to be included in the guidelines moreover education has to be done in order to improve the quality of life of our patients Pharmacoeconomic parameters have to be better understood to propose the best strategies to the majority of patients In the future genetics could be interesting for diagnosis probably prognosis and treatment however this is not the case today The main objective for the clinician is to evaluate a perfect phenotype to make the genetic studies clearly understandable The key group behind this book is Interasma a society of asthma specialists which has been functioning as a worldwide association for over 40 years and which is directly focussed on the prevention and treatment of asthma Doody's Rating Service Daniel J. Doody, 1996 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 Farmers' Review ,1890 Pearson's Magazine ,1909 National Library Service Cumulative Book Review Index, 1905-1974: Titles.
