Privatization Process In East Central Europe Evolutionary Process Of Czech Privatizations:

The Privatization Process in East-Central Europe Michal Mejstřík, 2012-12-06 It is beyond any doubt that East Central European countries such as Czech Republic Hungary Poland and Slovakia has dramatically changed its shape through its radical transition from centrally planned to the market economies in last 7 years Many economists divide the process of economic transformation into areas of Stabilization Liberalization and Privatization Restructuring The traditional view is that stabilization and liberalization can be achieved rather quickly by balancing budgets balance of payments tightening money supply freeing prices and liberalizing trade but that the area of privatization is one that could be moved to the future and will require much more time Until 1991 none of the post communist nations except former East Germany which had a large degree of support from West Germany had succeeded in privatizing large numbers of enterprises even though more than two years had passed since the changes in government in these nations The privatization has been however seen as an extremely important part of reform package together with stabilization and liberalization especially in the Czech Republic from the very beginning The Czechs originally as a part of the Czechoslovak Federal Republic embarked on an unprecedented path that should have lead not only to stabilization and liberalization but also to very rapid mass privatization of its sector of large enterprises that have dominated its economy to an extreme extent Privatisierung und öffentliche Finanzen Dirck Süß, 2016-09-12 Keine ausführliche Beschreibung für Privatisierung und öffentliche Finanzen verfügbar Ausländische Direktinvestitionen in Transformationsstaaten Vit Styrsky, 2003 Embedded Politics Gerald A. McDermott, 2002 DIV An empirical analysis of changing industrial processes in the postcommunist Czech Republic Die Osterweiterung der EU Rolf Hasse, 2000 Privatisation and Structural Change in Transition Economies Yelena Kalyuzhnova, Wladimir Andreff, 2003-09-08 Privatisation and Structural Change in Transition Economies brings together specialists from different areas governance regulation macro econometrics micro econometrics enterprise culture foreign direct investment technology transfer to focus on the many different aspects of the privatization process in transition economies The book does not dwell on the administrative or procedural aspects of privatisation Instead it attempts to understand the bigger picture in terms of underlying policy environment and supporting legal and economic measures which helped to a large extent to determine the eventual success or failure of privatization programmes National Production Regimes in Post-socialist Countries Mirka C. Wilderer, 2002 Detailed research has been undertaken depicting the dominant models of national production regimes in the Western hemisphere In the core of these debates on varieties of capitalism the role of institutions and the path dependent nature of socio economic changes are discussed Few attempts however have been made to classify the newly evolving market economies in Central Eastern Europe where new economic and political institutions were created after the revolutions in 1989 In this study the author takes up the challenge to answer the question what type of capitalism is evolving in the course of the transformation evolving in the course of the transformation processes in post socialist countries namely the Czech Republic Which model has influenced political choices and what is the final outcome Contents The Unsitutional approach towards transformation processes The theory on national production regimes Network theory and th econcept of embeddeeness The Czech governmental policy in transformation The Czech privatization and ownership resturcturing The financial sector and corporate governance structure in the Czech Republic Structural change and the evolving Czech national production regime OECD Economic Surveys: Czech Republic 2011 OECD,2011-11-22 OECD s 2011 Economic Survey of the Czech Republic examines recent economic trends and policies public spending efficiency and energy system efficiency Prague Economic Papers ,2000 Quarterly journal of economic theory and policy Privatization and Corporate Control in the Czech Republic Clemens Schütte,2000 The book discusses the role of the most important players in corporate control including the big bank centred financial groups capital markets the board model of Czech corporations and the institutional base of debt control and minority shareholder protection It also reveals the conflict of political intentions and real time developments Acta Slavica Iaponica ,2002 European Spatial Research and Policy ,2004 The Impact of Privatization and Economic Restructuring on Employment Relations Nejib Belhedi,2001 OECD Reviews of Regulatory Reform OECD Reviews of Regulatory Reform: Regulatory Reform in the Czech Republic 2001 Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development,2001-11-02 Since 1990 the Czech Republic has carried out a comprehensive transition to a market democracy that required a rapid and broad programme of deregulation re regulation and institution building Today the legal and policy frameworks consistent with a market economy are substantially in place and functioning Important challenges remain however and reform to fill the remaining gaps and further refine regulatory regimes at national and subnational levels will continue to play a central role in economic development in the Czech Republic Privatisation restructuring and building pro competition regulatory regimes have been delayed in key areas such as energy and reform in telecommunications should be completed Public sector reform should continue Speed and consistency are essential If the Czech Republic is to converge with the rest of Europe it must move faster than the average European country The Czech Republic is among several OECD countries to request a broad review by the OECD of its national regulatory practices and domestic regulatory reforms This review presents an integrated assessment of regulatory reform in framework areas such as the quality of the public sector competition policy and enforcement and market openness It also contains chapters on sectors such as telecommunications electricity road and rail freight and an assessment of the macroeconomic context for reform The policy recommendations present a balanced plan of action for both short and longer term based on best international regulatory practices In the same series Regulatory Reform in Denmark Regulatory Reform in Greece Regulatory Reform in Hungary Regulatory Reform in Ireland Regulatory Reform in Italy Regulatory Reform in Japan Regulatory Reform in Korea Regulatory Reform in Mexico Regulatory Reform in the Netherlands Regulatory Reform in Spain Regulatory Reform in the United States The general policy analysis which is the basis for these country reviews is presented in the OECD Report on Regulatory Reform Synthesis and the supporting two volume OECD Report on Regulatory Reform Sectoral and Thematic Studies published in 1997 The American Economic Review, 1997 A New Capitalist Order Hilary Appel, 2004 Examines why privatization was so popular immediately after the fall of communism and why it has failed in its intended goals of improving the economies of postcommunist countries Vingt ans de privatisation en Europe centrale Caroline Vincensini, 2010 Au lendemain de la chute du mur de Berlin la Hongrie la Pologne et la R publique tch que entament la transition post socialiste avec l objectif de se transformer en conomies capitalistes ce qui implique notamment de privatiser les entreprises d Etat et de laisser se d velopper le secteur priv Sont tudi es ici ces trois trajectoires nationales de propri t Quelles sont leurs sp cificit s Ont elles des points communs Les particularit s nationales se maintiennent elles ou tendent elles s estomper et pourquoi Globalization, Social Capital and Inequality Wilfred Dolfsma, Charlie Dannreuther, 2003 This volume investigates the relationship between globalization inequality and social capital and reveals that although strongly related these ideas are also highly contested The authors elucidate the interactions between these concepts looking in detail at the conflicts and competitiveness which can arise at both the national and organizational level The authors examine public and private sector reforms in relation to globalization and inequality highlight the tensions between global governance and societal resistance and demonstrate how social capital contributes to systemic competitiveness More specifically a number of topical case studies which focus on a variety of issues clearly show the contested experiences of globalization inequality and social capital These include the introduction of ISO standards the transformation of the Czech Republic reforms in the British National Health Service a comparison of the adoption of new forms of management in the US and the Netherlands and the role of consultancies in regional economic development These studies highlight the formal and informal boundaries which exist between different groups in society Although these boundaries do resist change at the same time they are flexible and so the authors argue can therefore play a significant role in shaping the dynamics of society and the economy The multidisciplinary approach and the variety of case studies will make this book required reading for institutional and international economists political and social scientists and scholars of international relations management and organization Journal of Institutional and Theoretical Economics ,1999 Ten Years of Rebuilding Capitalism Jiří Večerník, Petr Matějů, 1999
