Przybylski,PhD, David Hopkins,2015-10-15 One of the biggest challenges faced by meat producers today is the requirement to improve the quality of meat while maintaining focus on efficiency and higher yields Numerous studies have shown that consumers are willing to pay premiums for meat products with guaranteed eating quality This book examines the complicated multistep process of produc

Indicators of milk and beef quality J.F. Hocquette,S. Gigli,2023-08-28 The farming and agri food sectors are faced with an increasing demand by consumers for high quality products The current major questions are thus how to define quality and how to increase the quality of animal products to satisfy these new requirements This is the reason why the Cattle Commission of the European Association of Animal Production EAAP organised a specific session on this topic at its Annual Meeting which was held in Bled Slovenia in September 2004 This session dealt with the manipulation and evaluation of bovine milk and meat composition and quality with various indicators commercial physical biochemical molecular or other These indicators are any method biological trait or physical property which may be useful to predict a quality trait Quality includes sensory traits nutritional properties of products their ability to be processed and also any consideration about traceability genetic geographic or nutritional traceability Thus the full spectrum of quality attributes are discussed Indicators may also be considered as predictors In this respect contributors discussed the detection early in life of the ability of animals to produce meat or milk of high quality Indicators may also be useful for consumers when they buy meat or milk as official or commercial signs of quality All the review papers and the short communications which were presented in this session will be in this EAAP publication entitled Indicators of milk and beef quality Additional papers either presented in 2003 in the EAAP Annual Meeting or from invited authors were added to complete the publication Farm Animal Welfare, 1979-March 1987 Charles N.
