Problem Of Space In Jewish Medieval Philosophy:

The Problem of Space in Jewish Mediaeval Philosophy, 1916 The Problem of Space in Jewish Medieval Philosophy Israel Efros, 1917 A History of Jewish Philosophy in the Middle Ages Colette Sirat, 1990-11-30 Jewish medieval philosophy has formed the subject of much research over the past thirty years since the appearance of Gutmann's Philosophies of Judaism resulting in greater understanding and a new need for summation This important work now available in paperback aims to supply that need and devotes ample discussion to the major figures of the period like Saadiah Gaon Maimonides Abraham Ibn Ezra and Judah Halevi It also gives much attention to the discussion and presentation of texts by lesser known authors clustering around the greater men and movements The Problem of Space in Jewish Mediaeval Philosophy Israel Efros, The Problem of Space in Jewish Mediaeval Philosophy (Classic Reprint) Israel Isaac Efros, 2018-02-04 Excerpt from The Problem of Space in Jewish Mediaeval Philosophy Such are the difficulties which present themselves in connexion with the notion of space The deeper the mind delves into the problem the greater the tangle It is one of the sphinxes in the deserts of thought From the dawn of Speculation we find Space to be one of the most prominent objects of investigation Zeno Plato and Aristotle bent their great intellects on the solution of space colossal systems of science were reared on the notion of space Yet the meaning of space has remained a mystery till the present day Indeed the difficulties seem to increase with the time It would be preposterous of course to claim that the Jews were cognizant of all these difficulties that the modern era has introduced If we turn to examine the views on space maintained by the two greatest of Greek thinkers who had such an enormous influence on Jewish thought we will get a notion of the type of problems that we will have to deal with in the following chapters In addition it will present us the sources and the starting point for the views that are to be discussed in this study About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Encountering the Medieval in Modern Jewish Thought James A. Diamond, Aaron W. Hughes, 2012-08-01 The term medieval performs a great deal more intellectual work in modern Jewish Thought than simply acting as a referent to a particular historical era During the nineteenth century often for Jews who were increasingly alienated from their own tradition the medieval functioned primarily as a bearer of identity in a rapidly changing and secular world Each chapter in Encountering the Medieval in Modern Jewish Thought addresses a different return to the medieval ranging from the Enlightenment to the contemporary period that clothed itself in the language of renewal and of retrieval

The volume engages the full complexity and range of meaning the term medieval carries for modern Jewish Thought

Modernity of Religiosities and Beliefs Pablo Alberto Baisotti, Ricardo Martínez Esquivel, 2021-09-23 Modernity of Religiosities and Beliefs A New Path in Latin America From the Nineteenth to Twenty First Century synthesizes new research on various phenomena related to religions and beliefs in Latin America The contributors provide comprehensive analytical interpretations of Latin American spheres of religious ideas and worldviews and show that they are a key element to understanding the history of the region Overall this book gives an account of the whole spectrum of religious phenomena in Latin American societies providing a global interpretation that will contribute to the study of political economic and cultural modernities in Latin America The Harvard Theological Review, 1919 The Problem of Space in Jewish

Philosophy Isaac Efraim, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1917 edition Excerpt contradictory to speak of an existing infinite number Infinite divisibility denotes a process but not a state Such is the solution of Gersonides It rids us at once of the haunting ghost of Zeno which continued to appear as soon as we had infinite divisibility on our lips Gersonides showed us how to make of it an intelligible theory We are now ready to draw a line under the first general inquiry of our work The problems that so far occupied our attention are connected with the conception of empirical space i e with that part of space which has embodied itself in concrete tangible matter and has become therefore an object of experience We have seen how the Jewish thinkers never doubted the independent objective reality of space as presented to their senses They differed as to its ontological importance in the make up of things they took issues as to its accidental or substantial nature but no one questioned its independent existence Thus the Kantian view of the subjectivity of space which puts all extensity at the mercy of our senses is far removed from the Jewish standpoint Some thinkers we have seen even go to the extreme in maintaining that space is the sum and substance of all material existence the substantial groundwork of all things Perhaps this distinctly empirical standpoint is somewhat responsible for the general Jewish opposition to Arabian atomism with its assumption of a real yet spaceless particle as the basis of the material world At any rate Jewish thinkers all upheld the indestructibility of extension by means of division that space is infinitely divisible a theory the tremendous difficulties of which were altogether removed by Gersonides who showed that the notion of infinite

divisibility The Jewish Quarterly Review Cyrus Adler, Solomon Schechter, Abraham Aaron Neuman, Solomon

Zeitlin, 1981 Reading Maimonides' Philosophy in 19th Century Germany George Y. Kohler, 2012-05-03 This book investigates the re discovery of Maimonides Guide of the Perplexed by the Wissenschaft des Judentums movement in Germany of the nineteenth and beginning twentieth Germany Since this movement is inseparably connected with religious reforms that took place at about the same time it shall be demonstrated how the Reform Movement in Judaism used the Guide for its own agenda of historizing rationalizing and finally turning Judaism into a philosophical enterprise of ethical monotheism The study follows the reception of Maimonidean thought and the Guide specifically through the nineteenth century from the first beginnings of early reformers in 1810 and their reading of Maimonides to the development of a sophisticated reform theology based on Maimonides in the writings of Hermann Cohen more than a hundred years later

Encyclopedia of Medieval Philosophy Henrik Lagerlund, 2010-12-07 This is the first reference ever devoted to medieval philosophy It covers all areas of the field from 500 1500 including philosophers philosophies key terms and concepts It also provides analyses of particular theories plus cultural and social contexts Religious Books and Serials in Print

Time Matters T.M. Rudavsky, 2012-02-01

Despite the importance of time and cosmology to Western thought surprisingly little attention has been paid to these issues in histories of Jewish philosophy Focusing on how medieval philosophers constructed a philosophical theology that was sensitive to religious constraints and yet also incorporated compelling elements of science and philosophy T M Rudavsky traces the development of the concepts of time cosmology and creation in the writings of Ibn Gabirol Maimonides Gersonides Crescas Spinoza and others Journal of the History of Philosophy ,1988 The Torah U-madda Journal ,1997
