Privatisation In The European Union Theory And Policy Perspectives:

Privatisation in the European Union Judith Clifton, Francisco Comín, Daniel Díaz Fuentes, 2013-03-09 Judith Clifton Francisco Comín and Daniel Díaz Fuentes in Privatisation in the European Union reject the two dominant explanations provided in literature which include a simple Americanisation of policy and a varied privatisation experience without a common driving force Using a systematic comparative analysis of privatisation experiences in each country from the 1980s to the beginning of the twenty first century the authors show how the process of European integration and the need for internationally competitive industries have constituted key driving forces in the quest for privatisation across the EU As privatisation slows down at the turn of the millennium what future can citizens expect for public enterprises Privatisation in the European Union is essential reading for researchers students and policy makers interested in privatisation EU policy and the history of public enterprises

Privatization Experiences in the European Union Marko Köthenbürger, 2006 Experts evaluate the varied outcomes of privatization experiences in Austria Denmark Finland France Germany Ireland Italy the Netherlands Spain and the UK The trend toward privatization which began with privatization experiments in the UK under Margaret Thatcher and the deregulation of the telecommunications sector in the United States has attracted the attention of policymakers over the past two decades Privatization is broadly supported by most academic economists but the results of actual privatization efforts seem mixed In the UK for example telecom rates fell sharply after privatization but privatized rail service was widely perceived to have declined dramatically in quality In this CESifo volume international experts examine the experiences of 10 EU countries evaluating the real outcomes of privatization policies in Austria Denmark Finland France Germany Ireland Italy the Netherlands Spain and the UK The effects of privatization which includes not only changes in ownership of public activities and entities but also liberalization of markets and deregulation are difficult to distinguish from the effects of other economywide influences The studies in this volume meet this methodological challenge by using a well defined set of criteria including reducing consumer prices increasing quantity and improving quality by which to make their assessments Background chapters provide a conceptual framework for considering the issues Contributors Pablo Arocena Sean D Barrett Ansgar Belke Michel Berne Henrik Christoffersen Andrea Goldstein G nter Knieps David Newbery Martin Paldam David Parker G rard Pogorel Friedrich Schneider Eric van Damme Ingo Vogelsang Johan Willner

Privatization in the European Union David Parker, 2002-01-31 The book identifies different national characteristics in terms of the motivation to privatise the scale of privatization and its consequences In the opening chapters there is a detailed overview of the theoretical economic issues involved in privatisation and an assessment of privatization across the EU The remaining ten chapters contain national case studies of EU countries which review the history of state ownership and privatization in each of these countries and evaluate the extent of privatisation The role of European Commission directives in deregulating markets and stimulating privatisation is also examined

Legal Aspects of Privatisation Bulent Seven, 2002 The main aims of this thesis are as follows a To present a comprehensive analysis of the concept of privatisation its origins and limits b To identify the legal and institutional framework for privatisation in different European countries from a comparative perspective c To define and analyse particularly legal issues which arise during the privatisation transactions e g labour law competition law etc d To evaluate which features of the successful legal and organisational framework of privatisation have been successful so as to provide guidelines for those individuals and organisations participating in the privatisation exercises This work found out that there is no simple internationally applicable recipe for privatisation various legal methods and techniques can be used to privatise state owned enterprises Because each country has different circumstances it is impossible to provide a unique model for privatisation each country needs to design its own model according to its circumstances Privatisation is an essential but insufficient element for structural economic reform in the economy and society Privatisation is not a panacea it is not the solution to every economic and administrative problem selling an enterprise to the private sector does not mean an end to all problems Also privatisation is not an overnight process or a magic touch it will be a lengthy process Furthermore a decision that something can be privatised does not mean that it should be privatised In that context privatisation is not good or bad it is an economic and social instrument If it is well designed it may bring substantial benefits to the economy and society In many countries many state owned enterprises particularly the ones which are financially weak have still not been privatised This finding revealed that the privatisation process will be in the political and economic agenda for at least few more decades

International Handbook on Privatization David Parker, David S. Saal, 2003-01-01 Privatization has dominated industrial restructuring programs since the 1980s and continues to do so This authoritative and accessible Handbook considers all aspects of this key issue including the theory of privatization privatization in transition developed and developing economies as well the economic regulation of privatized industries
