Privatizing China The Stock Markets And Their Role In Corporate Reform:

Privatizing China Carl E. Walter, Fraser J. T. Howie, 2003-06-25 Much is written about the various efforts aimed at reforming China's state owned enterprises But in all this literature the Chinese government's determined effort to use the equity capital markets as a tool of enterprise reform has been virtually ignored The fact is that during the past decade this has been and will continue to be the principal thrust with regard to the reform of state owned enterprises On again off again noises about bankruptcy M A solutions and asset management companies are only sideshows in the process Carl E Walter is a Managing Director of JP Morgan and Chief Operating Officer of its China businesses Prior to joining JP Morgan in 2001 Mr Walter was a Managing Director and member of the Management Committee of China International Capital Corporation He was Chief Representative in Beijing for Credit Suisse First Boston from 1993-8 During his decade in China Mr Walter has participated in a number of pathbreaking international and domestic share listings and debt issues for Chinese companies banks and the Ministry of Finance He holds a PhD from Stanford University and a graduate certificate from Beijing University Fraser Howie is an independent financial analyst located in Beijing Over the past ten years he has worked in Hong Kong trading equity derivatives at Bankers Trust and Morgan Stanley After moving to China in 1998 he worked in the Sales and Trading Department of China International Capital Corporation then with a domestic retail financial services company and most recently with China M A Management Company
