Probability Measures On Groups X:

Probability Measures on Groups IX Herbert Heyer, 2006-11-14 The latest in this series of Oberwolfach conferences focussed on the interplay between structural probability theory and various other areas of pure and applied mathematics such as Tauberian theory infinite dimensional rotation groups central limit theorems harmonizable processes and spherical data Thus it was attended by mathematicians whose research interests range from number theory to quantum physics in conjunction with structural properties of probabilistic phenomena This volume contains 5 survey articles submitted on special invitation and 25 original research papers Probability Measures on Groups X H. Heyer, 2013-11-11 The present volume contains the transactions of the 10th Oberwolfach Conference on Probability Measures on Groups The series of these meetings inaugurated in 1970 by L Schmetterer and the editor is devoted to an intensive exchange of ideas on a subject which developed from the relations between various topics of mathematics measure theory probability theory group theory harmonic analysis special functions partial differential operators quantum stochasticity just to name the most significant ones Over the years the fruitful interplay broadened in various directions new group related structures such as convolution algebras generalized translation spaces hypercomplex systems and hypergroups arose from generalizations as well as from applications and a gradual refinement of the combinatorial Banach algebraic and Fourier analytic methods led to more precise insights into the theory In a period of highest specialization in scientific thought the separated minds should be reunited by actively emphasizing similarities analogies and coincidences between ideas in their fields of research Although there is no real separation between one field and another David Hilbert denied even the existence of any difference between pure and applied mathematics bridges between probability theory on one side and algebra topology and geometry on the other side remain absolutely necessary They provide a favorable ground for the communication between apparently disjoint research groups and motivate the framework of what is nowadays called Structural probability theory Measure Theory D. H. Fremlin, 2000 Probability Measures on Semigroups: Convolution Products, Random Walks and Random Matrices Göran Högnäs, Arunava Mukherjee, 2013-03-09 A Scientific American article on chaos see Crutchfield et al 1986 illustrates a very persuasive example of recurrence A painting of Henri Poincaré or rather a digitized version of it is stretched and cut to produce a mildly distorted image of Poincaré The same procedure is applied to the distorted image and the process is repeated over and over again on the successively more and more blurred images After a dozen repetitions nothing seems to be left of the original portrait Miraculously structured images appear briefly as we continue to apply the distortion procedure to successive images After 241 iterations the original picture reappears unchanged Apparently the pixels of the Poincaré portrait were moving about in accordance with a strictly deterministic rule More importantly the set of all pixels the whole portrait was transformed by the distortion mechanism In this example the transformation seems to have been a reversible one since the original was faithfully recreated It is not very farfetched to introduce a certain amount of randomness and irreversibility in the above example Think of a random miscoloring of some pixels or of inadvertently giving a pixel the color of its neighbor The methods in this book are geared towards being applicable to the asymptotics of such transformation processes The transformations form a semigroup in a natural way we want to investigate the long term behavior of random elements of this semigroup Probability Measures on Groups, VII Herbert Heyer,1984

Harmonic Analysis of Probability Measures on Hypergroups Walter R. Bloom,Herbert Heyer,2011-04-20 The series is devoted to the publication of monographs and high level textbooks in mathematics mathematical methods and their applications Apart from covering important areas of current interest a major aim is to make topics of an interdisciplinary nature accessible to the non specialist The works in this series are addressed to advanced students and researchers in mathematics and theoretical physics In addition it can serve as a guide for lectures and seminars on a graduate level The series de Gruyter Studies in Mathematics was founded ca 30 years ago by the late Professor Heinz Bauer and Professor Peter Gabriel with the aim to establish a series of monographs and textbooks of high standard written by scholars with an international reputation presenting current fields of research in pure and applied mathematics While the editorial board of the Studies has changed with the years the aspirations of the Studies are unchanged In times of rapid growth of mathematical knowledge carefully written monographs and textbooks written by experts are needed more than ever not least to pave the way for the next generation of mathematicians In this sense the editorial board and the publisher of the Studies are devoted to continue the Studies as a service to the mathematical community Please submit any book proposals to Niels Jacob

Probability Measures on Groups, VIII Herbert Heyer,1986 Probability Measures on Groups Herbert Heyer,1982 Random Walks on Reductive Groups Yves Benoist,Jean-François Quint,2016-10-20 The classical theory of random walks describes the asymptotic behavior of sums of independent identically distributed random real variables This book explains the generalization of this theory to products of independent identically distributed random matrices with real coefficients Under the assumption that the action of the matrices is semisimple or equivalently that the Zariski closure of the group generated by these matrices is reductive and under suitable moment assumptions it is shown that the norm of the products of such random matrices satisfies a number of classical probabilistic laws This book includes necessary background on the theory of reductive algebraic groups probability theory and operator theory thereby providing a modern introduction to the topic Effects of Mental Practice on Tank Gunnery Performance John E. Morrison,1990 Technical Report

,1989 Probability Measures on Locally Compact Groups H. Heyer,1977-12-29 Probability measures on algebraic topological structures such as topological semi groups groups and vector spaces have become of increasing importance in recent years for probabilists interested in the structural aspects of the theory as well as for analysts aiming at applications within the scope of probability theory In order to obtain a natural framework for a first systematic presentation of the most developed part of the work done in the field we restrict ourselves to probability measures on locally compact groups At the same time we stress the non Abelian aspect Thus the book is concerned with a set of problems which can be regarded either from the probabilistic or from the harmonic analytic point of view In fact it seems to be the synthesis of these two viewpoints the initial inspiration coming from probability and the refined techniques from harmonic analysis which made this newly established subject so fascinating The goal of the presentation is to give a fairly complete treatment of the central limit problem for probability measures on a locally compact group In analogy to the classical theory the discussion is centered around the infinitely divisible probability measures on the group and their relationship to the convergence of infinitesimal triangular systems

Probabilities on the Heisenberg Group Daniel Neuenschwander,1996-08-19 This volume constitutes the proceedings of the Third International Workshop of the European Association for Machine Translation held in Heidelberg Germany in April 1993 The EAMT Workshops traditionally aim at bringing together researchers developers users and others interested in the field of machine or computer assisted translation research development and use The volume presents thoroughly revised versions of the 15 best workshop contributions together with an introductory survey by the volume editor The presentations are centered primarily on questions of acquiring sharing and managing lexical data but also address aspects of lexical description
