Problem Of Race In The 21st Century:

Taking the "ism" Out of Racism in the 21st Century William Edward Alberts, 2002 The Western Journal of Black Studies ,2004 Rich Voter, Poor Voter, Red Voter, Blue Voter Charles Prysby, 2020-04-06 This book examines the changing relationship between social class and voting behavior in contemporary America At the end of the 20th century working class white voters were significantly more Democratic than their middle class counterparts as they had been since the 1930s By the second decade of the 21st century that long standing relationship had reversed Republicans now do better among working class whites While Trump accentuated this trend the change began before 2016 something that has not been fully appreciated or understood Charles Prysby analyzes this development in American politics in a way that is understandable to a wide audience not just scholars in this field Drawing on a wealth of survey data this study describes and explains the underlying causes of the change that has taken place over the past two decades identifying how social class is directly related to partisan choice Attitudes on race and immigration on social and moral issues and on economic and social welfare policies are all part of the explanation of this 21st century development in American political trends Rich Voter Poor Voter Red Voter Blue Voter Social Class and Voting Behavior in Contemporary America is essential reading for scholars students and all others with an interest in American elections and voting behavior Philosophical Inquiry ,2001 The Crisis ,2001-05 The Crisis founded by W E B Du Bois as the official publication of the NAACP is a journal of civil rights history politics and culture and seeks to educate and challenge its readers about issues that continue to plague African Americans and other communities of color For nearly 100 years The Crisis has been the magazine of opinion and thought leaders decision makers peacemakers and justice seekers It has chronicled informed educated entertained and in many instances set the economic political and social agenda for our nation and its multi ethnic citizens Color Struck Lori Latrice Martin, Hayward Derrick Horton, Cedric Herring, Verna M. Keith, Melvin Thomas, 2017-08-25 Skin color and skin tone has historically played a significant role in determining the life chances of African Americans and other people of color It has also been important to our understanding of race and the processes of racialization But what does the relationship between skin tone and stratification outcomes mean Is skin tone correlated with stratification outcomes because people with darker complexions experience more discrimination than those of the same race with lighter complexions Is skin tone differentiation a process that operates external to communities of color and is then imposed on people of color Or is skin tone discrimination an internally driven process that is actively aided and abetted by members of communities of color themselves Color Struck provides answers to these questions In addition it addresses issues such as the relationship between skin tone and wealth inequality anti black sentiment and whiteness Twitter culture marriage outcomes and attitudes gender racial identity civic engagement and politics at predominately White Institutions Color Struck can be used as required reading for courses on race ethnicity religious studies history political science education mass communications African and African American Studies social work and sociology The War Against the Past Frank Furedi, 2024-08-20 A war is being waged against the Past Whether it s toppling statues decolonising the curriculum or erasing terms from our vocabulary a cultural crusade is underway designed to render the past toxic It is condemned as enemy territory and has become the target of venomous hate What is at stake in provoking such a strong sense of societal shame towards Western history In this book Frank Furedi mounts a fierce defence of the past and calls for a fight back against the delegitimization of its ideals and accomplishments Casting the past as a story of shame has become a taken for granted outlook permeating the educational and cultural life of western society from the top down Its advocates may see it as a cultural imperative but a society that loses touch with its past will face a permanent crisis of identity Squandering the wisdom provided by our historical inheritance means betraying humanity s positive achievements Challenging this great betrayal Furedi argues is one of the most important battles of our time American Studies International ,2003 Mohonk Conference on the Negro Question ,1890 The City of the 21st Century ,1988 American Educational Research Association Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association,2000 Educational Assessment in a Changing World Isabel Nisbet, Stuart Shaw, 2024-10-21 This timely book takes stock of the wide range of developments in society education and assessment and offers conclusions and strategies that are necessary for the future of educational assessment Drawing on examples from the UK Europe and USA the book will dissect cultural political psychological and ideological ideas on society education and assessment and foreground pressing issues relating to artificial intelligence social justice and climate change Acknowledging its predominantly Western perspective and providing context on the evolution of educational assessment the book will bridge the gap between theory and practice to progress debate and discourse on creating a culture of assessment fit for the future and rethinking strategies for the path ahead Ultimately the book will provide insights and key takeaways for the field of educational assessment along with an evidence based agenda that will be relevant for education professionals the assessment industry and policymakers interested in higher education international and comparative education and testing Race and Racialization Tania Das Gupta, 2007 This provocative volume will influence the way people think of race and racialization It provides a thorough examination of these complex and intriguing subjects with historical comparative and international contributions Edited as a theoretically strong cohesive whole this book unites a remarkable ensemble of academic thinkers and writers from a diversity of backgrounds Themes of ethnocentrism cultural genocide conquest and colonization disease and pandemics slavery and the social construction of racism run throughout The Brookings Review ,1998 The History of Civilisation in Scotland John Mackintosh, 1892 The American Inter-oceanic Ship Canal Question Daniel Ammen, 1880 Race and Redistricting Tinsley E. Yarbrough, 2002 Through much of the 1990s a newly hatched snake wreaked political havoc in the South When North Carolina gained a seat in Congress following the 1990 census it sought to rectify a long standing failure to represent African American voters by creating under federal pressure two majority minority voting districts One of these

snaked along Interstate 85 for nearly two hundred miles not much wider than the road itself in some places and was ridiculed by many as one of the least compact legislative districts ever proposed From 1993 to 2001 three intertwined cases went before the Supreme Court that decided how far a state could go in establishing voting districts along racial lines Noted Supreme Court biographer Tinsley Yarbrough examines these closely linked landmark cases to show how the Court addressed the constitutionality of redistricting within the volatile contexts of civil rights and partisan politics A suit was first filed by Duke University law professor Robinson Everett a liberal who loathed discrimination but considered racially motivated redistricting a clear violation of the Fourteenth Amendment s equal protection clause Yarbrough tells how Everett enlisted associates as plaintiffs and went on to win two Supreme Court victories in Shaw v Reno 1993 and Shaw v Hunt 1996 both by 5 4 decisions Following the creation of another flawed redistricting plan he rounded up a new set of plaintiffs to take the battle back to the Supreme Court But this time in Easley v Cromartie on the swing vote of Justice Sandra Day O Connor the 5 4 vote went against him Yarbrough shows the significant impact these cases have had on election law and the fascinating interplay of law politics and human conflict that the dispute generated Drawing heavily on court records and on interviews with attorneys on both sides of the litigation he relates a complex and intriguing tale about these protracted struggles His cogent and balanced analysis considers whether the state legislature was wrong in using race as a measure for establishing the new district or whether it was simply engaging in the time honored practice of gerrymandering to ensure political balance Race and Redistricting spotlights efforts to racially engineer voting districts in an effort to achieve fair representation By examining one state s efforts to confront such dilemmas it helps readers better understand future disputes over race and politics as well as the ongoing debates over our color blind constitution

How White Evangelicals Think

Dave Verhaagen,2022-08-16 The majority of Americans have looked on in some combination of horror and befuddlement as many white Christians particularly evangelicals have revealed beliefs and opinions seemingly antithetical to the Christian faith whether holding racist attitudes supporting conspiracy theories aligning with nationalistic and authoritarian movements or becoming hostile toward the different and marginalized Dr Dave Verhaagen a nationally board certified psychologist and author tackles the challenge of explaining the psychology behind what has become the unique mind of the modern white Christian Each chapter explores one or more robust psychological principles that help make sense of why white Christians think like they do
