Perspectives on South Africa-China Relations at 15 Years April, Funeka Yazini, Shelton, Garth, 2015-04-02 The year 2013 marked 15 years of the phenomenal diplomatic relations between South Africa and China. The relationship between South Africa and China has been developing since diplomatic ties were established on 1 January 1998. Since then South Africa-China's bilateral relations have undergone rapid and all-facet development. There were frequent high level and other kinds of mutual exchanges between the two countries. The bilateral relations within the space of fifteen years have evolved from a Partnership to a Strategic Partnership and then to a Comprehensive Strategic Partnership. Furthermore, in the Comprehensive Strategic Partnership which was set out in the Beijing Declaration signed in 2010, the two countries expressed the desire to further strengthen and deepen cooperation in both bilateral and regional affairs by establishing a comprehensive strategic partnership based on equality, mutual benefit and common development. The agreements range from political dialogue, trade, investment, mineral exploration, manufacturing and agriculture to joint efforts in the global arena such as in the United Nations, the Forum on China-Africa Cooperation (FOCAC) and Brazil-Russia-India-China and South Africa BRICS. In recognition of the aforementioned bilateral achievements, on 19 September 2013, an Ambassadorial forum was co-hosted by the Department of International Relations and Cooperation (DIRCO), The Embassy of the People's Republic of China in the Republic of South Africa and the Africa Institute of South Africa Human Science Research Council (AISA/HSRC). The objective of the Ambassadorial Forum was to provide an opportunity for reflections on the past and outlook on the future diplomatic relations between South Africa and China. This book presents the official keynote addresses which provide strategic thinking and foresight into the bilateral relations between the two countries. The main substance of the book is a collection of the Ambassadorial Forum papers that were submitted. The papers evaluate economic and political progress from a national interest perspective. Progress is measured against variables such as trade, growth, people-to-people development, partnerships and the implementation of state agreements, all against the background of the theory of national interest.

Strategic Perspectives on Crime and Policing in South Africa Johan Burger, 2007 The simple truth is that the police do not prevent crime and some researchers even refer to this responsibility of the police as an impossible mandate. International Handbook of War, Torture, and Terrorism Kathleen Malley-Morrison, Sherri McCarthy, Denise Hines, 2012-12-15 Armed conflict on domestic or foreign soil impacts people's daily lives and shapes policy around the world. Millions live with the threat of terrorism, whether from random sources or known enemies. And the acceptability of torture is debated by politicians and public alike. The International Handbook of War, Torture, and Terrorism synthesizes historical backgrounds, current trends and findings from the Personal and Institutional Rights to Aggression and Peace Survey (PAIRTAPS) administered in forty countries over nine global regions. Contributors examine the social, cognitive and emotional roots of people's thinking on war and national security issues, particularly concerning the role of governments in declaring war, invading other countries or torturing prisoners By focusing on the cultural traditions and colonial histories of broad regions rather than of individual nations the book demonstrates how context shapes ordinary citizens views on what is justifiable during times of war as well as more nebulous concepts of patriotism and security The Handbook Introduces the PAIRTAPS and explains the methodology for analyzing responses Defines war related concepts from the unique perspectives of Western Europe U K U S Middle East Gulf States Russia Balkans Africa Latin America South Southeast Asia and East Asia Provides an integrative summary of definitions and points of view Situates results in terms of social engagement disengagement theory Considers implications for peace and reconciliation As a reflection of the changing global landscape the International Handbook of War Torture and Terrorism deserves to be read by a wide range of researchers in peace psychology political science sociology and anthropology The George Washington International Law Review ,2003

Perspectives on Science Policy in South Africa H. C. Marais,2000 Over the years there have been several publications on science and technology in South Africa Most if not all of them have focused on the science and technology landscape up to the mid eighties The changes in the science and technology system since the democratisation of this country have thus far not been reflected on in a systemstic way This book presents a perspective on this changing landscape by offering an encompassing conceptual framework that should remain valid even if the policy were to evolve further This perspective is further profiled by bringing into focus the main developments that have shaped science policy in South Africa since the turn of the 20th century The last four chapters of this book sketch this process and its outcomes to date unstable as the picture may still be This dynamic situation however does allow one to experience something of the vibrant atmosphere that characterised the transformation of the country during the 1990s This overview of the development of science and technology is presented within the context of a multi faceted conceptual framework chapters 1 2 3 and 4 The intention of this book is to offer an overview and evaluation of the policy and system and a prognosis of future developments in the context of broader historical theoretical and international trends
