Argumentation in Artificial Intelligence Iyad Rahwan, 2009-06-13 Argumentation is all around us Letters to the Editor often make points of consistency and Why is one of the most frequent questions in language asking for reasons behind behaviour And argumentation is more than reasoning in the recesses of single minds since it crucially involves interaction It cements the coordinated social behaviour that has allowed us in small bands of not particularly physically impressive primates to dominate the planet from the mammoth hunt all the way up to organized science This volume puts argumentation on the map in the field of Artificial Intelligence This theme has been coming for a while and some famous pioneers are chapter authors but we can now see a broader systematic area emerging in the sum of topics and results As a logician I find this intriguing since I see AI as logic continued by other means reminding us of broader views of what my discipline is about Logic arose originally out of reflection on many agent practices of disputation in Greek Antiquity but also in India and China And logicians like me would like to return to this broader agenda of rational agency and intelligent interaction Of course Aristotle also gave us a formal systems methodology that deeply influenced the field and eventually connected up happily with mathematical proof and foundations

Mass Communication Tyler Miller, 2019-04-09 Mass Communication has taken deep roots in the world Mass communication research is a sprawling and multidisciplinary field of research approaches and theories drawing inspiration from a range of disciplines in the humanities and the social sciences and even from science disciplines such as mathematics computing and engineering It continually develops and adapts to the changing nature and application of media technologies as well as changing political and social concerns with the media It influences almost all the aspects of human life viz medical education culture tradition and fashion etc Like all other subjects mass communication also is worthy of research so that it can develop in a more understandable form This book presents an epistemological view of levels of analysis It guides the readers to understanding the challenges of media measurement its quantification datafication and assessment and helps in developing skills of media audience analysis A comparative analysis is also made as where required The author is hopeful that this book will be very useful to those who have a flair of learning more about the mass communication

Burden of Proof, Presumption and Argumentation Douglas Walton, 2014-06-30 The notion of burden of proof and its companion notion of presumption are central to argumentation studies This book argues that we can learn a lot from how the courts have developed procedures over the years for allocating and reasoning with presumptions and burdens of proof and from how artificial intelligence has built precise formal and computational systems to represent this kind of reasoning The book provides a model of reasoning with burden of proof and presumption based on analyses of many clearly explained legal and non legal examples The model is shown to fit cases of everyday conversational argumentation as well as argumentation in legal cases Burden of proof determines 1 under what conditions an arguer is obliged to support a claim with an argument that backs it up and 2 how strong that argument needs to be to prove the claim in question
